Hungarian Communists Say U.S. Outwitted

Officials Seize Bomb Letters To Attlee, Churchill

LONDON (CP)—"Letter bombs" intended for Prime Minister Attlee, Opposition Leader Winston Churchill and other highly-placed British leaders were intercepted tonight in London's main post office, it was reported here.

Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council and Deputy Prime Minister, Home Secretary Cuthbert Ede and Fuel Minister Shinwell were others who received the explosive-laden packages which have been mailed to various prominent Britons this week in assassination attempts believed to be launched by Jewish terrorists.

The latest letters bore a Turin, Italy, postmark.

Earlier today the British Embassy in Rome announced that a number of the earlier letters had borne Rome postmarks. Some sources said Italy now was the centre for European activities of Jewish terrorists, one segment of which, the Stern gang, has claimed responsibility for sending explosives.

Scotland Yard revealed that nine more bombs had reached England in the assassination plot. They were turned over to police without mishap.

Officials said the latest letters were brought across the English Channel by steamship late Thursday night.

Post office employees, scrutinizing mail from the continent, found them in a single mail bag. Home office explosives experts and Scotland Yard criminal investigation agents removed them and examined them for further clues to the senders.

LARGER ENVELOPES

The new bombs, it was disclosed, came in slightly larger envelopes than those detected earlier.

Three of the earlier type arrived Thursday but did not reach their addressees because of the vigilance of secretarial workers.

Reports that a letter bomb addressed to the King and Queen was delivered at Buckingham Palace Thursday are current but not confirmed.

Foreign Minister Bevin is the latest recipient of a letter bomb. One of Bevin's private secretaries became suspicious, deposited it in an empty room and called police.

The so-called Stern Gang, Palestine Jewish underground group, was reported to have admitted sending explosive-laden letters to Bevin and several other leading Britons.

Dispatches from Jerusalem Thursday night said the Stern Gang declared that the explosive packets had been mailed from

Britain May Block Bulgaria As U.N. Member

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain may oppose the entry of Bulgaria into the United Nations, a Foreign Office spokesman hinted in London today.

He said Britain had been greatly disappointed by Bulgaria's refusal to admit to Bulgarian territory the United Nations committee investigating the recent Greek-Bulgarian frontier dispute, and added that this failure to keep the undertakings to provide for facilities to the commission was in marked contrast with the record of the Greek government.

This would have to be borne in mind in connection with any request which Bulgaria might make for admission to the U.N. after the coming into force of the Bulgarian peace treaty.

It was learned the Bulgarian Foreign Office dispatched a telegram after the committee had left its headquarters for its arrival. The committee's request for entry to Bulgaria was telegraphed to the Bulgarian foreign minister as May 30.

Frau Hess Arrested

FRANKFURT (Reuter)—Frau Hess, wife of Rudolf Hess, has been arrested by the Bavarian authorities for trial before the Nuremberg denazification court, the German news service in the U.S. zone announced tonight.

Back Europe Aid

LONDON (AP)—Authoritative government sources promised today urgent British action to co-operate with the United States in an aid-for-Europe policy enacted Thursday by State Secretary Marshall in Cambridge, Mass.

May Delay Strike

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Strike action by 100 employees of seven Moose Jaw hotels scheduled for tonight was expected to be postponed pending return of A. R. Johnston, president of the national vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union (A.F.L.). It was learned today. He is in Vancouver.

Says Union Illegal

VANCOUVER (CP)—John S. Burton, counsel for the Boiler-makers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union of Canada, Local No. 1, said here today that the union was an illegal association because it was in restraint of trade for the reason that its by-laws provided a closed agreement. Mr. Burton made the statement in the B.C. Appeal Court, claiming a member had no legal right of action against the union. He was answering a claim by Myron Kuzych, welder, that he was illegally expelled from the union.

B.C. Islanders Say School Tax Unfair When Placed On Them

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rulers of the "island kingdoms" of the coast of British Columbia are here today to protest school taxes, assessed on the islanders for the first time.

Protests have been made to Judge Ernest A. Dickie in court of revision, the island people objecting to paying for "something we don't receive."

Many of the islands are isolated, have no schools and there is no way of getting the children to classes.

"It is too bad this was not thrashed out in the Legislature," said Judge Dickie. "I hope you realize you are paying toward a high general standing of education in British Columbia."

Premier John Hart has indicated there will be some relief from the high school taxes, but no details were made public.

"You are not alone in this boat," Assessor R. R. Howay told them. "Logging camps and railways are among many protesting the new taxes."

The complaint of Terence J. Corday of Bowen Island was typical. He told the court:

"We have no fire protection, no sewers, no police protection, electric light or any other city conveniences, yet our taxes are more than on the same home in the city."

Some appeals were dismissed, while others were adjourned to a later hearing.

Alternative Treaty On A-Control Not Promising—McNaughton

OTTAWA (CP)—The nations of the world, including the Soviet Union, will have to surrender some of their sovereignty if the uses to which atomic energy are put are to be controlled, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton today told the Commons committee on external affairs.

The general, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission which now is seeking to devise control measures, discussed the efforts of the committee to bring up a draft treaty that would satisfy all nations concerned.

INTERIM REPORT

In the second and last day of his testimony before the committee, he said he did not think the atomic commission would reach agreement on a draft treaty by the time the United Nations Assembly meets in September. It would be a "substantial" step forward if it could report on the "duties and limitations" of the proposed control body. In any event, the commission would present an interim report.

Donald Fleming, P.C., Toronto, Eglington, asked whether Gen. McNaughton thought it likely there might be an alternative agreement for those nations such as Russia which could not see the western view.

The general said most of the delegates would "deplore" an alternative treaty. There was a feeling that the discussions proceeded the Russian and Polish delegates were constantly having it emphasized to them that the other nations were "perfectly genuine" and "perfectly generous."

Gen. McNaughton said 10 out of the 12 delegates on the commission were opposed to the Soviet proposals.

City To Give Final Reading To By-law On Transportation

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, chairman of the city's transportation committee, will recommend to the City Council meeting today, that the transportation franchise by-law be read a third time and finally passed, in order to go before the public on June 19, the date originally scheduled.

Prior to the meeting, he said he could not say what the other municipalities would do. Oak Bay municipality has already advertised their by-law for June 19 and Esquimalt Municipal Council at a special meeting Thursday night, gave third and final reading to the by-law.

It will go to the public June 19, the same date that Esquimalt residents will elect a reeve to fill the vacancy left by the death of Col. Ernest J. Read. There will also be an election for one councillor.

Saanich municipality will put the transportation franchise by-law to their residents on June 19.

Vancouverite Says He May Be Heir To British Baronetcy

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sir Charles Hardinge's search for an heir to a United Kingdom baronetcy may end in Vancouver.

John Lawson King, a saw-filer, thinks that he may be the heir, sixth in line to the baronetcy, after reading a report telling of the search started by Sir Charles, seeking the son and daughter of a near relative of his father.

This near relative emigrated to Canada in the middle of the last century and worked for the C.P.R. "at its farthest west." He was survived by a son and daughter who, if living, would be 60 years old.

MIGRATED IN 1860

The description tallies closely with that of the King family. The father came to Canada around 1860, worked for the C.P.R., and after homesteading in Manitoba, came in 1890 to New Westminster, where he opened a seed store.

Two sons and a daughter were born. The father died in 1898; the mother and daughter both died in 1915.

"My mother told me the name King had been adopted by my father on coming to Canada," said Mr. King today. "We were told my father changed his name because of a disappointment in the family when a grandfather refused to take over a title and estate."

DROPPED THE 'SIE'

Mr. King does not know his father's original name, but when he first came to Canada he called himself Sir John King, later dropping the title.

Mr. King believes his father was born in a place called Clearwater, somewhere in the south of England—in Essex or Kent. "My father told me a generation would have to die out before we would come back into the title."

People Listen To Outside News By Secret Radio

By JACK GUINN

BUDAPEST (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's No. 1 Communist and virtual dictator, has told factory workers that his party took over control of this country "before the United States could rub its eyes."

"We were able to solve the crisis before the foreign press, good and bad, was able to intervene," Rakosi said. "Before the United States could rub its eyes, everything was perfectly put over."

"Such a task could only be carried out when democracy is united and is led by the brave and iron-fisted Communist Party, conscious of its aims."

"This is why the feat has been acclaimed by the lovers of democracy all over the world."

Rakosi's description of the events which culminated in the resignation of Premier Ferenc Nagy was delivered Wednesday, but was not published in the press here. The excerpts were found today in an official text from the files of M.T.I., the official government news agency.

(With President Truman's approval, the United States State Department Friday drafted a hotly worded note to Russia protesting the events in Hungary. The note hinted at an appeal to the United Nations.)

President Truman's view—that the coup was an outrage—was not published in any Hungarian newspaper. Brief mention was made that the peace treaty for Hungary had been ratified by the United States Senate, but there were no comments.

HUDDLE IN CELLARS

In scenes reminiscent of the German occupation, many persons are huddling every night in Budapest cellars to listen to foreign news broadcasts. In cafes, conversations are carried on in whispers. Members of parliament pass by U.S. correspondents without a word.

A Hungarian who works for a United States citizen said that in the town of Gyombo, about 10 miles southeast of Budapest, the political police had confiscated all radios and had warned citizens not to listen to foreign broadcasts.

The home of a Hungarian civilian employee of the American graves registration service was searched by political police.

Recalled Envoys Refuse To Go

PARIS (AP)—Paul Auer, Hungarian Minister to France, today joined the swelling ranks of Hungarian diplomats abroad who refuse to return to Hungary, where the Communists seized control of the government.

Auer, following the lead of the ministers in Switzerland and Washington, announced he did not recognize the new Communist-dominated regime which deposed Premier Ferenc Nagy and that he no longer was Hungary's diplomatic representative here.

NOT JOINING CABINET

In addition, Istvan Kereszt, Hungarian Minister to France, today refused to return to Hungary, where the Communists seized control of the government.

The Hungarian legation in Geneva announced Thursday that Ferenc Gordon, Minister to Switzerland, would refuse to return home as ordered for consultations with the new government.

The minister in Washington, Aladar Szegedy-Maszar, disclosed his stand Wednesday, denouncing "Soviets and their agents," and saying he and most

RUSSIA REPLIES

LONDON (AP)—Russia has informed Britain that all the evidence and information which led to the resignation of Premier Ferenc Nagy has been handed over to the Hungarian government, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

Britain's political representative in Budapest, A. K. Helm, had asked Lt. Gen. V. O. Sviridov for copies of all documents on which the charges against Nagy were based.

U.S. Army Grounds All C-54s For Inspection Of Tail Assemblies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States army's air transport command announced today that it had temporarily grounded its world-wide fleet of 194 C-54 Douglas Skyliners as a "safety precaution" to permit inspection of tail fittings.

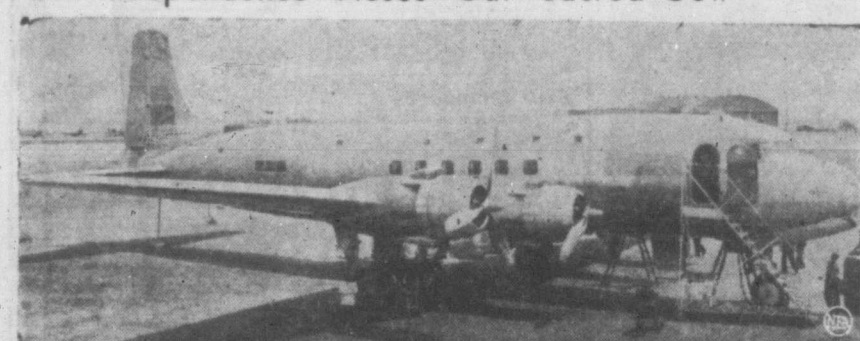

A C-54 converted to civilian use for Eastern Airlines crashed last week at Port Deposit, Md., with the loss of 53 lives. Chairman James M. Landis of the Civil Aeronautics Board has reported that structural failure in the tail assembly was "clearly indicated" although the exact cause has not been determined.

In response to a question, an A.T.C. officer told a reporter that as far as he knew there was no direct connection between the Port Deposit disaster and the order grounding the C-54s.

The action grounding the army planes was taken Thursday, an A.T.C. statement said, after routine field reports had indicated that bolts and vertical stabilizer attachment fittings were "loose and sheared in some C-54s." The planes are expected to be back in service within a couple of days.

New 'Independence' Noses Out 'Sacred Cow'

"The Independence," new plane for President Truman, a DC-6 transport, was unveiled for photographers at Santa Monica, Calif. The three rear windows are placed in area of conference room, which can be made into a private stateroom. Windows over wings are cut in the general passenger space. When painting of the plane is completed a stylized eagle head will cover the nose. With a cruising speed of 315 miles an hour, the executive transport rates an absolute range of 4,400 miles.

Mrs. J. Todd 2 Up In B.C. Golf Final

Mrs. Jack Todd of Victoria Golf Club was 2 up on Mrs. H. O'Callaghan, Quilchena Club, Vancouver, today at the end of the morning round of the 36-hole final for the B.C. women's amateur golf title at the Uplands Club.

Mrs. Todd after gaining a two-hole lead at the turn, lost the 10th. Next six holes were halved with Mrs. Todd winning the 17th to regain her 2 up margin. The 18th was halved. Mrs. Todd was out in 41 and back in 39, while Mrs. O'Callaghan had scores of 43-39.

Presbyterian Assembly Seeks To Check Increase In Divorces

CALGARY (CP) — Grace Presbyterian Church here Thursday night played host to the Moderator and other dignitaries of the 73rd General Assembly. Dr. Robert Johnston, chairman of the board of missions and minister of Knox Church, Ottawa, who is retiring this year from the active ministry, was presented with a bronze figure in tribute to his years of service to the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Noting the increase in divorce, the Assembly agreed to the preparation of a booklet on the meaning and responsibility of Christian marriage, which is to be sent down to the presbyteries for study and approval.

Dr. C. L. Cowan of Hamilton said one of three marriages now ends in the divorce court. "Children by the dozen are being killed by drinking drivers," said Dr. C. L. Cowan, Hamilton, as he urged the Assembly to take steps to see liquor controlled. He said installation of cocktail bars in Ontario was not controlling but extending the sale of liquor.

ADVANCE APPEAL

The sum of $1,333,698.80 or 66 per cent of the objective of $2,000,000 has been pledged or given to the advance and peace fund offering of the church. B. M. Hannigan of Toronto reported. Five of the 46 presbyteries reached or exceeded allocations, Ottawa with 184 per cent; Superior, 107 per cent; Montreal, 102 per cent; Edmonton, 101 per cent, and Red Deer, 100 per cent.

As the assembly began consideration of a detailed 28-page report from the committee appointed last year to survey the administrative needs of the church, debate centred around procedure in dealing with a report that suggests new and, in some cases, drastic changes in administration. Rev. A. Neil Miller of Brampton, presented it due to the illness of the committee convener, Dr. Peter A. Dunn of Hamilton. It was decided to consider the report first without committing the assembly to take action upon it.

The basic recommendations, including one advocating general and progressive readjustment of the administration of the church, and another recommending that the special administrative needs committee be continued, were passed.

DEBATE NEXT WEEK

The assembly heard Mr. Miller's explanation of the report and deferred debate on its recommendations until Monday.

Dr. C. L. Cowan of Hamilton stated the board had barely had time to look into important matters such as the reason why clergymen of one branch of the church were exempted from the income tax that every earning Canadian pays.

A motion by Dr. J. B. Skene of Vancouver and Mr. W. H. Madinnes, an elder, also of Vancouver, that the Moderator should not travel throughout the church because of the danger to his health, was ruled out by the assembly. The motion followed the report of the retiring Moderators' itinerary. It stated that not only was travel dangerous to the Moderator's health, but that it was of little benefit to the church.

Fire Destroys Food At Labrador Settlement

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Food was being rushed by plane and ship today to 150 inhabitants of Three Rapids, Labrador, described as being "in desperate hunger" after a forest fire which wiped out their food depot and radio station three weeks ago.

A PBY aircraft which took off from Argentina, 50 miles southwest of here, was to attempt a landing at the settlement 30 miles south of Hopedale, half-way up the Labrador coast.

At the same time, a food-laden schooner left here for Three Rapids, but the trip will take several days because of ice in river approaches.

First news of the fire was carried out to Hopedale by a lumberjack who made his way through the brush.

Growing Oysters Helps Japan

Japanese girl displays a "cultch" of seed oysters.

Japanese fisherwoman brings in her load of oysters for packing.

Freighter takes on deckload of crated seed oysters, destined for U.S.

Few people know that an important facet of Japan's rapidly reviving export trade is the production of seed oysters for shipment to North America. So far this year, 56,000 crates of oysters have been shipped to the west coast. To produce the oysters, the Japanese submerge a "cultch" made of long ropes, to which are fastened clam shells. Sometimes branches of trees are used. Swimming oyster larvae, about three weeks old, attach themselves to the clam shells. There they lose their swimming organs and begin adult growth. After five months the ropes are taken from the water and the oysters are packed for shipping. The pictures below were taken in Matsushima Bay.

Mysterious Voice Interrupts Radio Address Of Peron

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Juan D. Peron was confronted today by new opposition at home, apparently because of policies he adopted to restore friendly relations between Argentina and the United States.

An unidentified voice mysteriously broke into a presidential broadcast Thursday night with the shout: "Death to Peron," and there were indications the interrupter was an extreme Argentine Nationalist affronted by the resignation Wednesday of federal Police Chief Juan Filomeno Velazco.

Velazco's resignation, under circumstances strongly suggesting he had been dismissed on Peron's order, previously had been interpreted as a measure designed to cement friendship between Argentina and the United States. Velazco was known as a leader of extreme Argentine Nationalists who had expressed Axis sympathies during the war.

Peron was speaking at a farewell celebration for his wife, Eva Duarte Peron, who is heading for a tour of Europe, when his speech was interrupted.

The interruption was followed by several sharp reports, a brief, loud burst of music, five minutes of silence and then more music.

Police rushed to the Radio Belgrano building, but left without making any arrests. The Argentine news agency said authorities were considering the theory a clandestine transmitter had broken into the Peron broadcast.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Neighbors thought an earthquake had struck Thursday night when the foundations of the two-story home of Mrs. M. E. Nelson crumbled and the house partially collapsed. However, none of the three occupants suffered injuries in the house's three-foot drop.

Australian Minister Criticizes Procedures For Peace Treaties

CANBERRA (CP)—Procedure adopted for a German peace settlement and the "tendency toward piecemeal disposal" of the settlement with Japan were criticized today in a statement tabled in the federal Parliament by the External Affairs Minister, H. V. Evatt.

The criticism was contained in a 12,000-word review of the international situation in which the minister also underlined the increasing responsibility of Australia in the Pacific and suggested Britain should guard against any lessening of political interests in the Pacific and the Far East.

The statement was presented to the House of Representatives during an all-night sitting prior to Parliament's adjournment until late in the year.

Dr. Evatt said that, because of the failure of the recent meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Moscow to find "real agreement on any major issue," Australia suggested an "unfettered conference of all active belligerents which should assume final responsibility for the peace settlement."

"In my opinion, history will utterly condemn the consistent efforts of a few powers to exclude from their undoubted moral right to sit at the peace table other nations which fought in the war from first to last."

The minister noted "important and at times decisive" roles played by Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

He thought both Great Britain and the United States would accept Australia as a necessary party in negotiations for a settlement with Japan. He suggested reparations from Japan should include compensation to cover physical losses and personal injuries to servicemen, particularly prisoners of war and internees.

Canada's Position Between U.S. And Russia Debated In Commons

OTTAWA (AP)—The question of what attitude Canada should take toward Russia in the post-war world loomed large in debate in the Commons Thursday.

Some members felt the Dominion should strive to strengthen her friendship with the United States, while others expressed belief Canada should avoid any situation which would broaden the gap between the United States and Russia.

The debate occurred on a bill that would define the authority of United States military courts over "visiting" United States service personnel in Canada.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, recalled he was in Moscow when the Canadian government disclosed it had appointed a Royal Commission to investigate Russian-directed espionage activities in Canada. The Russians had expressed surprise at the amount of anti-Soviet feeling in Canadian newspapers.

He believed Canada should reject the bill before the House and thus put herself in the position of being able to criticize both the United States and Russian for expansionist policies.

A. L. Smith, P.C., Calgary West, said he would like to see U.S. troops by the thousands come in and help Canada defend her boundaries.

Douglas Harkness, P.C., Calgary East, who served as a lieutenant-colonel in the Second World War, said everyone would like Canada to be able to look after her own defence, but she had not the population and had to depend on help from Britain and the United States.

T. J. Bentley, C.C.F., Swift Current, Sask., said that for peaceful pursuits he wanted all possible "truck and trade" with the United States, but he did not want "truck and trade" in military pursuits.

George Black, P.C., Yukon, said it was sensible for Canada and the United States to exchange ideas on the matter of defence and offence.

REBUFS MILITARY MEN
Anthony Hlynka, S.C., Vegreville, Alta., said members of the House should take "a little advice" from military men. No one would suggest it was not in Canada's interest to stand together with the United States in the event of war.

Before the debate was resumed members gave second reading to a bill amending the Prairie Farm Assistance Act to cut down eligibility requirements under the legislation, which provides for payments to farmers for drought losses. The bill was referred to the Commons committee on agriculture.

Meanwhile, the Senate gave third reading to a bill amending the National Housing Act. Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lib., Alberta, moved second reading of a bill to amend the National Parks Act by having two Alberta areas, discontinued as national parks, revert to the possession of the province.

Woman's Body Found At Skeena Mouth

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Finding of the badly decomposed remnant of the body of a woman on the Skeena River mouth shore near the Carlisle Cannery has led to speculation it may be the remains of one of a party of seven natives lost last Jan. 29 near Port Essington in a 30-foot gillnet boat.

The wreck of the boat was found a few days later near Morse Cove in Telegraph Passage, one of the estuary branches of the Skeena River, with the body of Peter Spalding, the owner of the boat. No further trace of the other victims was found.

The headless body was found by employees of the Carlisle Cannery and later brought here. Aboard the gillnetter, apparently the victim of a storm in the ice-laden Skeena River, were Peter Spalding, Edward Bennett, Lucy Bennett, Matthew Westly, Mrs. Peter Spalding and two Spalding children. It is believed the body may be that of Mrs. Spalding.

Non-union Workers Bury Cleveland Dead

CLEVELAND (AP)—Officials of the strikebound Lake View Cemetery hired additional non-union workers today to perform what a common pleas judge declared in banning picketing by union gravediggers is the "sacred obligation" of burying the dead.

Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Marriack granted a temporary injunction Thursday prohibiting members of the Cemetery, Landscape and Nursery Workers' Union (A.F.L.) from picketing the Lake View site where 117 bodies are held in a chapel.

A minister and his two brothers dug a grave for their 72-year-old mother at the cemetery last week—the only burial which has taken place since 63 members of the United Mine Workers' affiliate went on strike April 18 for pay increases of 10 cents an hour.

Buffalo Mills Near Standstill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Milling operations in this leading flour milling centre of the United States neared a standstill today as supplies dwindled without promise of replenishment from strikebound grain elevators.

A wage dispute between operators of the city's 20 elevators and 350 grain shovellers affiliated with local 109 of the International Longshoremen's Union (A.F.L.) still was without any sign of solution.

The shovellers seek a guaranteed $50 weekly wage, and elevator operators, claiming the amount of business cannot be forecast accurately, have proposed a 25-cent increase in the present rate of $4.50 paid for moving 1,000 bushels from ship to elevator.

Elwood L. Chase, milling industry spokesman, said 3,100 waterfront workers might be idle by tonight.

COPYING HITLERIAN METHODS

TO TRY TO WIN A POLITICAL OR any other point by sheer terrorism is usually the last subterfuge of the senseless and the intolerant. Sending explosives through the mail with the specific object of removing certain persons from the scene of the living is about the most despicable trick the mind of man can conceive. Yet the Palestinian Stern Gang, through its "Fighters for Freedom in Israel" organization in continental Europe, has blithely proclaimed its responsibility for this latest demonstration of its belief in sudden death as the instrument of its policy to assist Jewry. It can achieve no such purpose. Every "envelope bomb" dispatched to some unsuspecting potential victim will merely evoke revulsion among the many millions the world over who will never forget the hideous life to which the Jews of Nazi-dominated lands were subjected—but who are ready to use such practical influence as may be afforded to them to bring about a solution of the problem in the Holy Land.

This campaign of terror through the mails, moreover, is to all intents and purposes similar in pattern to that which Adolf Hitler, the archpriest of anti-Jewish technique, practiced in the now defunct Third Reich from the moment he assumed power in the early days of 1933. Surely those who are copying his methods of forcing an issue should profit by that lesson of sordidness which the late and unlamented German Fuehrer inscribed on the scroll of history. No friends of Jewry can remain unmoved by some of the tactics which have been employed by otherwise well-meaning persons whose judgment has occasionally fallen victim to caprice. But, by bedeviling a situation already terribly bedeviled, the way to an eventual settlement will be longer and more tortuous.

CHANGE OF HEART?

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON Yesterday indicate that relations between the United States and Argentina have undergone a considerable improvement since President Truman indicated his country's desire for the consolidation of hemispheric defence. It may not be correct to say that all is sweet reason and light between Washington and Buenos Aires. But in view of the fact that the Chief Executive on Pennsylvania Avenue has expressed his willingness to instruct United States officials to sit down with nominees of the Argentine government—plus representatives of the other South American republics—and draft a mutual defence treaty, it is quite evident the basic decisions embodied in the Act of Chapultepec in March, 1945, are likely to be implemented in practical fashion.

It is not necessary to emphasize at this late date that much of the misunderstanding between the governments in Washington and Buenos Aires arose through President Peron's convictions that only through a totalitarian administration could his nation progress and become an influential force in this hemisphere. Having realized, however, that the philosophy to which he gave a good deal of lip service and not a small amount of material support is now as extinct as the dodo, he appreciates that through his co-operation in all matters and movements which have for their object the future peace of the world he will be serving both himself and his country. But he will require watching.

RADIO FOR CANADA

THE GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION OF Canada—with the bulk of our population living in a comparatively narrow strip along the northern border of the United States—provides the strongest possible argument in support of a nationally owned and operated radio network. For the almost overwhelming flow of "Americanized" information, problems, thoughts and ideals which pours into our homes by way of the great United States radio chains, necessitates a corresponding promulgation of our own Canadian culture if the national ideals and aspirations of this Dominion are to be properly served. Such a goal is best achieved by means of a national radio system.

This thesis, of course, by no means overlooks the public services to be rendered by private commercial radio stations in this country. Not only can they aid and intensify the achievement of the goals of publicly owned radio, but they can—and do—foster Canadian aims and Canadian talent in a wide variety of fields open to them. The only criticism of national radio, as far as the private stations are concerned, has come when they have clashed with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in the commercial field, or have voiced complaint against the fact that the CBC, which they consider their commercial competitor, also has the power of regulation over the privately-owned stations.

No political party so far has taken an open stand against public ownership of radio on a matter of principle, although there have from time to time been sporadic attacks based on charges of government interference in the public functioning of this instrument. This has come as a rule from the Progressive Conservative benches, more with the appearance of manufacturing political capital than of offering basic opposition to the government's policy. The Social Credit party, of course, has maintained sustained criticism of government radio policy in regard to allocation of political "free time," granting of licenses and other matters. Its strongest opposition dates from the time during the latter part of the war when the federal authorities turned down the application of the Social Credit government of Alberta for a commercial license for their Edmonton station. C.C.F. opinion on the question of national radio has been based on that party's socialist doctrine of the ultimate nationalization of all industry, and in this sense Mr. Coldwell's support of publicly-owned radio may be viewed as more in the nature of an embarrassment to the government than a help.

The present representations of the private broadcasters to the Parliamentary committee on radio broadcasting do not seek to overthrow the principle or the operation of publicly-owned radio, but are aimed at removing from the control of the CBC, as well as from the control of whatever government happens to be in power, the implementation of the doctrines of free speech, free press and free discussion through the medium of the private broadcasters. They wish, too, to have the CBC, as well as themselves, placed under the control of an independent commission, such as the Board of Railway Commissioners, which would remove what they claim to be the disadvantage of being under the direct control of the national chain. These are arguments which have been raised on previous occasions, and with the return of this country to peaceful pursuits they should receive the close attention of the committee which has met to hear them.

FOR FIGHTING ONLY?

THE ARGUMENT OF MR. H. V. EVATT, the Australian Minister of External Affairs, for representation of the "middle nations" and smaller countries at the peace treaty tables is one that will find wide approval in Canada, not only among the population, but also on Parliament Hill. The Antipodean spokesman said today that the stalemate of the recent Moscow peace-making conference made still more desirable an "unfettered conference of all active belligerents which should assume final responsibility for the peace settlement."

It will be recalled that during the London meeting of the "Big Four" Foreign Ministers last winter, preparatory to the Moscow talks, Canada, through External Affairs Minister St. Laurent and Prime Minister King, succeeded in obtaining assurance that the "middle nations" would at least be permitted to submit written memoranda to the conference, even though they were not allowed to sit in on the discussions.

Mr. Evatt's mention of the "important and at times decisive" efforts of the four major Dominions in the conflict needs no elaboration. Still fresh in mind are the exploits of Canadians in the air over Britain, at Caen, on the Atlantic, and in a host of other battle areas; the deeds of the South Africans and New Zealanders in the African fighting; and the courage of the Australians in the South Pacific theatre.

The postwar bargaining and jousting of the "Big Four" nations gathered at meetings to wind up the Second World War have not been marked by that measure of success which would silence arguments in favor of widening the representation. It may well be that the middle and smaller nations, lacking intimate involvement in some of the larger issues of Weltpolitik, could make a contribution to the satisfactory settlement of the peace problems which would match in importance their blood-bought right to participation.

ORGANIZING FOR HEALTH

CANADA CAN TAKE A GOOD DEAL OF pride in the fact that this senior overseas Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations is well to the fore in its program of conserving the health of its people. Perhaps it may not be generally known that this country was the first to endorse the World Health Organization. And the first census of statistics bearing on health to be taken in the world was set up in Quebec in 1866. Since then this unique and continuous record has been kept with meticulous accuracy.

It is to be noted, too, with considerable pride that one of the first governments to establish free treatment for tuberculosis was the Liberal administration of Saskatchewan in 1929. Moreover, Hon. Paul Martin, federal Minister of National Health and Welfare, when he was addressing the recent meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association, showed how an intensive national program for health is operating in co-operation with federal and provincial health departments, bureaus and organizations.

It is obvious to all those who have studied health matters and the means adopted for the efficient conduct of their campaigns that these official bodies have profited substantially by the valuable assistance readily accorded to them by private and semi-private groups working on numerous specific aspects of the general health—including cancer, tuberculosis, venereal disease, opium addiction, and so on. When the proposals of the federal government to the provinces on health matters are accepted, therefore, it will spell another progressive step for Canada.

Late Four Power Pact

By J. PAUL-BONCOUR

Former President of the French Cabinet; delegate for France at the League of Nations for more than 20 years; adviser to the French Government on United Nations Affairs.

THE FOUR-POWER PACT! No, I do not mean the pact negotiated in 1933 in a desperate effort to keep Germany and Italy within the bonds of collective security and the League of Nations. I mean the one recently deliberated at Moscow by the "Big Four," and which this time brought us the invaluable co-operation of the United States. A United States, indeed, ready to propose such a security pact that would keep Germany in order for 25, perhaps even 40 years.

It came to nothing. A temporary failure, it is to be hoped. To attempt to tie it up with all the other conditions of the German peace, which are being endlessly discussed with little prospect of agreement, was to make it impossible of fulfillment.

AND YET! EXCEPT FOR questions which, though they have nothing to do with security, are vital for French economy, questions of reparations, coal and so on, how much better would our security have been assured by this Four-Power Pact than by any considerations of a political nature, such as the question of frontiers, type of government, federalism, decentralization, with which this necessary treaty is encumbered. The certainty that the four great nations (as proposed by the United States), would be associated for a sufficient number of years in maintaining the peace of Europe, would have been worth all the restrictions we are planning to impose on Germany, all the precautions, largely illusory, it is true, that we are preparing to take. Germany will not accept them willingly and if she is not animated by a true desire for peace, they will mean nothing once the restrictions of occupation and control are slackened, as they must be in time. To know that if she budged she would have to face the United States, Russia, England and France, would have been the surest and simplest means of making her keep quiet.

Can one say the U.N. is enough?

WHO DOES NOT see that for the moment the U.N. is not enough? It is still trying to find itself and will be trying until peace is made and the victors have determined the broad outlines of the world that it will be U.N.'s job to maintain. Encumbered by the veto, which will paralyze the organization until it is suppressed or limited or made more flexible, and bound to fall into the very precautions, procedures and delays for which the League of Nations was so greatly reproached, and of which the new organization offers us a striking reminder every day, the U.N. can never replace speed and facility of those regional pacts, expressly provided for in its statute, precisely because the editors of the Charter clearly perceived the difficulties that the U.N. would encounter in attempting to keep order everywhere in the world. The Four-Power Pact would have been the perfect answer. It would have been a "regional agreement" in every sense of the term.

Thus, Mr. Marshall, in proposing that the Big Four unite to maintain order in Europe, by organizing a permanent coalition against the possibility of aggression by Germany, was acting in the spirit and letter of the Charter. Incidentally, it would be vain and dangerous to prevent that Germany from rebuilding herself unless we wish to create in the breast of Europe a core of disorder and despair. Mr. Marshall provided the means by which the Charter could be efficiently and quickly applied.

AT THE SAME TIME, he gave Europe the hope—so cruelly disappointed following the first world war by the withdrawal of the United States from the League of Nations and the cancellation of their pledges on the Rhine—of the constant presence of his powerful country to secure us against new wars.

How could the proposal for a Four-Power Pact be turned down?

What mistake, and how fraught with unhappy consequences, if it is not rectified! For, finally, only two motives could explain this diffidence:

One might be the desire for a hegemony. But in that case, what would be the use of having beaten nazism and its monstrous will for domination if we were to face attempts inspired by some other ideology, just as disastrous for our common liberty?

Another motive might be fear lest this Four-Power Pact result in the final establishment of the United States in Europe, thus giving them a distinct advantage in the rivalry, alas! only too clear, which is manifest between the two giants on whose relations depends the peace or war of tomorrow.

NOW, THE FOUR-POWER PACT had not only the aim of uniting the Big Four against Germany, but of uniting them among themselves, preventing any aggression on her part, but also any war among them. The United States would thus enter into the system of agreements between Russia and England on the one hand, between Russia and France on the other hand and finally between France and England, agreements which together would constitute a veritable Three-Power Pact, which would be completed and strengthened immeasurably by the participation of this great fourth.

Truly, to have missed such an opportunity would make us despair if we did not somehow have the feeling that the question may have been broached at the mysterious long interview between Mr. Marshall and Marshal Stalin, and that perhaps the subject is not yet closed.

A Prize Subject

Sense Of Humor—It Is Needed Now

By JAMES THRASHER, from New York

WHAT DOES a sense of humor have to do with preserving world peace? A great deal, General Eisenhower seems to think. For he has included it in a prescription which he has offered his countrymen for attaining that goal. The other ingredients are firmness, patience and military preparedness.

We agree with the chief of staff. At the same time, we think he would agree that a sense of humor is a commodity that isn't easy to keep on hand at all times in these days. There is so much disappointment and apprehension connected with the peace efforts. With half the world ill fed, with governments and economies tottering, with little quarrels threatening to become big ones, world affairs are no laughing matter.

TOO SMUG

But a sense of humor doesn't always need something to laugh at. It isn't an emotion that is satisfied by slapstick. Nor is it the gift of witty speech that is nourished by cynicism or a sense of superiority. Both of these are much too smug to deserve the name.

A sense of humor springs from an admission of the ridiculous pretensions that all of us are guilty of from time to time. And since every person who is anywhere near normal is predisposed in his own favor, that admission lends tolerance to one's general outlook.

IN THE STATESMAN

Such an outlook makes it possible to understand better the pretensions and self-esteem of others. It leads to more temperate thinking. Without a sense of humor the firmness that General Eisenhower prescribes can become overbearing, and the exercise of patience becomes almost impossible.

Most of us are in no position to know how much of a sense of humor, as well as patience and firmness, today's statesmen bring to world deliberations. But we can guess from their photographs and their speeches. It might seem that America's Mr. Austin has a bit more than Secretary Marshall. Russia's Mr. Molotov seems to have a vestige of humor. Russia's Mr. Gromyko, nary a trace.

NATIONAL ASSET

The presence or absence of a sense of humor among top diplomats conceivably can be of considerable importance. But General Eisenhower was not addressing himself to the top diplomats when he gave his prescription. He was talking to his fellow Americans, and his advice is worth heeding.

The more democratic a government is, the more its policies reflect the temper of its citizens. A democratic people with a well-developed national sense of humor would not be likely to ask for anger in their government's firmness.

ANOTHER DISAPPOINTED

This taxpayer and his three school children are alarmed about the future of our Arena if it is to be managed or controlled by those who strongly resisted our efforts to establish a creditable public service. We cannot allow those who have opposed this project to govern its future.

We who sweat to give our youngsters what they deserve, will see beyond this fault and trace its cause. We may correct the set up of our Arena Commission by altering the representation on the Council that has elected them.

CHARLES D. DAVIS,
1066 Amphion Street.

ARENA COMMISSION

By a unanimous vote the delegates representing the 57 unions affiliated with this Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council expressed strong disapproval with the City Council's election of the board to administer the affairs of the Civic Arena at our regular meeting held Wednesday, June 4. Following our discussion I was instructed to write you requesting a letter to that effect be published.

As one of the organizations that played a part in raising the initial fund for the Civic Arena, we feel that the City Council should have given serious consideration to the Arena question with a view to electing officials who were sincere in their desire to see the Arena succeed as a community enterprise. We feel that such success can only be obtained by persons having firm beliefs in the value of such community efforts, and while we do not wish to disparage the abilities and integrity of the City's nominees, we can recall that certain of these gentlemen were very definite in their stand against the City's participation in the Arena business. With their opinion we have no quarrel; they are as much entitled to their viewpoints as we are to ours. But when certain members of the board have openly opposed the idea of a Civic Arena it is evident that the future outlook for the venture is not as bright as we feel it could be.

Our people supported the Arena fund because we felt such an establishment could perform an invaluable service to our community by providing healthy recreation at a low cost for our younger citizens, as well as filling a long felt want for entertainment for our adult population. The success of the Arena cannot be gauged by the amount of profit it makes as in the ordinary run of cold-blooded business, but rather by its services to our entire community.

The original Arena Committee was composed of a number of civic-minded persons and organizations, and certainly this group should have been able to supply five persons competent to operate the Arena. Two of the fraternal orders who played an outstanding part in the campaign were overlooked entirely, and I refer to the Kinsmen's Club and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, both well noted for their progressive outlook and their participation in community activities.

Our delegates termed the action of the City Council a "slap in the face to the Citizens' Arena Committee," and I'm sure many Victorians will agree with the truth of this assertion.

A. P. RAYMENT,
President, Victoria Trades and Labor Council.

CHANGE OF HEART?

The issue concerning the City Council's selection of the Arena Commission is an all important one at this time. As an interested citizen of Greater Victoria, I am gravely concerned.

Is it not a fact that some selected for the Arena Commission have strongly opposed public ownership? Could it be that they have undergone a change of heart? The City Fathers should realize the inevitable outcome of such a choice as they have made and act now before it is too late.

We question who should have the responsibility of choosing those for the Arena Commission. Ask the people in Victoria and the surrounding districts who donated towards the Arena's construction. Ask, also, the organizations mainly responsible for raising funds and who represent the people.

May the full significance of this question penetrate the minds of every responsible citizen.

MILDRED RONSON,
2933 Foul Bay Road.

SUBSCRIBER SPEAKS

From the various expressions one hears around town regarding the City Council's appointment of the Arena administrators, it would appear the City Council have made an unhappy choice.

As one who made a small contribution to the Arena fund during the campaign sponsored by the Citizens' Arena Committee, I feel I am at least entitled to raise my voice in protest against the appointments.

I can remember the school children raising their nickels and dimes, and many citizens with whom I am acquainted making contributions to what we all felt was a worthwhile cause. I can also remember the various organizations that worked so hard to raise the fund and when we note that none of the original Citizens' Arena Committee or the pioneer organizations have a representative on the board, then I think the elected representatives of the people of Victoria have indeed shown an extreme degree of short sightedness.

Under the present set up, I, together with countless other Victorians, am wondering how long it will take for the Arena to become another bad venture so it can pass into the hands of private ownership.

JUDY ARNOLD,
1331 Johnson Street.

CYNIC'S SURPRISE

London (Ont.) Free Press

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Edmonton Journal
The most incredible item of the week is a report from Kincardine, Ontario, that, when the local school caught fire, the children formed a bucket brigade and put it out. It wouldn't have happened in our young days.

UNFORTUNATE REMINDER

T.D.F. in the Ottawa Citizen
Ike Eisenhower admits that he washes the dishes for Mrs. E. on Sunday nights! Perhaps we shouldn't have mentioned this, lest it be cast up to us when our ear is glued to the adventures of Charles McCarthy.

TRUTH OR FICTION

S. P. Taylor in Toronto Saturday Night
Statistics, lately released, indicate that American women of today have an average life span of 69½ years, as against 52 years at the turn of the century. Could it be that they are just a little more truthful than they used to be?

COSTLIEST COMMODITY

Financial Post
Fear is still the costliest commodity in the world. In a world that is starving for almost everything we are still spending $27.4 billions annually for armaments and armies. There are still 19 million men in armies. What is $27.4 billions? It's just about $16 per person alive in the whole world today.

PRACTICE WHILE WE PREACH

For the democrat, democracy is something by which to live; for the Communist, Communism is a faith to live for. Only when democrats show the same zeal, show that they are practitioners of democracy rather than mere preachers of it, will they be in way of meeting the Communist peril.

SUN-GLASS USE

Health and Welfare Service
The best medical advice is against use of sunglasses for night driving. Doctors say they will just provide an additional hazard. In the first place, sunglasses should not change the hues of natural colors, and their indiscriminate use tends to lower tolerance of the eyes for light. Unless an eye specialist has specially advised them, sun glasses should be worn, if at all, only during periods of exposure to sunlight.

An old Irishman collapsed in the street and a crowd soon gathered, all trying to help and each making suggestions. One, Maggie Riley, kept shouting, "Give the poor man whisky," but little attention was paid to her. Then the agonized voice of the Irishman rose above the din: "Will the lot of ye hold your tongue and let Maggie Riley speak."

DATING OF MAPS

Letter to The Times of London
Perhaps more important than the dating of books is the dating of maps. The Ordnance Survey maps give even the date of the latest revisions, but most, if not all, other publishers print no date whatever. Publishers of atlases commonly cause the same inconvenience and uncertainty by omitting both the date of the publication of the book and the dates of compilation of the individual maps. These can sometimes be roughly judged by changes in political frontiers or by such tests as looking for the "Regis" after "Bogor," but suitable tests do not always come to mind.

Permanent Car Plate

Exchange
What good reason there is for a new license plate for a motor car every year has never been revealed. Being attachable to rattles, falls off and catches clothes and luggage. Renewing it each spring is a nuisance. But those are minor faults compared with one mentioned by a thief who points out that they make car stealing easy.

A permanent number, welded to, or part of the car body, would stop this quick and easy changing, besides being much neater and much more convenient for the car owner. There would be no more wasted time in plate distribution. When a new car was sold the number and owner would be reported to the authorities and that owner would be responsible for all taxes until he registered a transfer of the vehicle to someone else.

Haida Indians Decline From 40,000 To 400

Describing the Haida Indians of the Queen Charlotte Islands as a former proud and fierce race whose customs were governed by rigid moral law, A. M. D. Fairbairn told the annual meeting of the Canadian Club that the story of the Haidas embodied "all the elements of stark tragedy."

"You might call it the disintegration of a race which has taken place right before our eyes," he said. "Their numbers have dwindled from a race of 40,000 to 400."

Mr. Fairbairn said the white man with his civilization and diseases were responsible for the decline of the race.

The bringing of steel tools was the only helpful thing the whites had done for the Indians, he said, and with these tools they had produced superb designs of the totem poles, some of which still can be seen in deserted villages.

Mr. Fairbairn said the works of the Haidas were fast disappearing and the sculptors were long dead, while the old songs and ceremonies were gone, save in the memories of the old people.

"When the old die, the language, the customs will have died, for the young speak only English, and seem ashamed of their ancestry," he said.

Speaking of the Haidas of today, Mr. Fairbairn said the men were tall, of fine physique, lithe and broadshouldered and many had served overseas and proved

Ex-Civil Servants Seek Pension Bonus

Need for a cost-of-living bonus to be added to provincial civil service pensions was discussed at a largely-attended meeting of retired civil servants and government pensioners in Macdonald Hall Thursday afternoon. As the meeting included beneficiaries under civil service superannuation, a number of ladies also attended.

The opinion was expressed that as active civil servants drawing substantial salaries were given the bonus, it seemed unfair to deny it to retired persons forced to live on limited incomes.

A. S. Tyrer presided and called attention to the latest increase in living costs as shown by government statistics.

A brief dealing with the subject has been placed before the provincial government.

The secretary, J. L. Colbert, reported a steadily-increasing membership in the Retired Civil Servants' Association, not only in Victoria, but in other parts.

Brief addresses and comments were made by P. D. Walker, J. S. Edwardson, Joseph Food and others.

J. Food and J. Morton were appointed a publicity committee with power to add to their number. The latter was also added to the executive.

The meeting was the last to be held before September.

Boy Scout Movement Subject At Club

The importance of the Boy Scout movement was stressed by Freeman King, field commissioner of Boy Scouts in the Greater Victoria area, when he addressed members of the Victoria Optimist Club Thursday at the Empress Hotel.

"Scouting makes boys conscious of their neighbors, and turns them into leaders and fine citizens," Mr. King said.

Mr. King explained the movement was ever growing and said it would be appreciated if existing organizations would give it full support.

Profit Seekers Blamed For Rising Costs

MOOSE JAW (CP) — Pat Conroy, national secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said Thursday night wage increases in Canada are not responsible for the increases in prices of commodities.

Wage increases granted last year amounted to only one-third the increase in the cost of goods, Mr. Conroy said in a public address here. The demand for removal of price control came from "profit seekers," he said.

C.A.B. Advertising Misstatements, Says Chairman Of CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board of governors of the CBC, said before the radio committee of the Commons Thursday, current newspaper advertisements sponsored by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, contained "falsehoods" and "misstatements of fact."

He asked the committee, which has been hearing the testimony of C.A.B. officials, to give him an opportunity to draw attention to the advertisements. He said today's newspapers carried an advertisement headed "Our Radio Laws Spell Monopoly."

There were two sentences in the advertisement which were "false." One of them said that in Canada today it was impossible to make a major radio move without the permission of the government-of-the-day.

Mr. Dunton said the CBC makes and unmakes its regulations without the approval of the government.

The second sentence said the CBC could cancel the license of a private radio station without cause. The CBC had never had the power to cancel licenses, said Mr. Dunton.

Gets The Bird

One of the world's champion bird hunters is a woman—Mrs. Charles Cordier. With her husband she has completed a rare bird hunt in the wilds of Guatemala under assignment by the Bronx Zoo of New York. At the end of 13 arduous months, during which they were beset by torrential rains, landslides and food shortages, they returned with 169 specimens, comprising 57 different species. She is shown here with a northern violet trogon, which seems to be admiring itself in the mirror.

Tofino Board Of Trade Looks For West Coast Road

Members of the Tofino Board of Trade are shown studying a map showing details of the proposed West Coast road from the Alberni to Tofino via Kennedy Lake and Ucluelet. The highway would run from Alberni to Sproat Lake, follow the north shore to Taylor Arm along Taylor River to Hulton Creek where a bridge 120 feet long would be required, up the creek to the divide, and down the pass to Kennedy River. The elevation of Sproat Lake is only 150 feet, and the summit is not more than 800 feet and the crossing about 450 feet. Advocates of the highway say the route through Sutton Pass offers no great difficulties in construction. On Kennedy River another bridge of the same span as Taylor River, would cross the east fork.

The proposed route would open up the pleasure resort of Long Beach and the rich mining-fishing areas around Tofino and Ucluelet. Members of the Tofino Board of Trade told Geoffrey Edgewood and Alec Merriman, Island Events' representatives on a publicity tour to that area, that the proposed highway was roughly constructed all the way except for about 18 miles. The road between Ucluelet and Tofino is unsurfaced but it is in good shape.

Unveil Memorial Cross At Duncan

DUNCAN—The Duncan Memorial Cross with its new base, containing the names of those killed in service in World War II, will be unveiled June 22 at 2.30. In the afternoon, it was decided at a recent meeting of the memorial committee, at which Mayor J. C. Wragg presided.

The memorial was moved from its old location on Station Street to the City Gardens. Rev. H. T. Archbold will be in charge of the program. Members of the Canadian Legion Branch will parade for the occasion and a band will be in attendance.

Chemainus Jury Rules Death Of Pair Accidental

CHEMAINUS—A verdict of accidental death, with blame attached to no one, was returned by a coroner's jury at an inquest here Wednesday evening into the deaths of Mrs. Ralph Murray and Rufus Smith, who died as a result of a collision with an E. & N. Railway train at a crossing near Chemainus.

Mrs. Murray was a passenger in the taxi driven by Mr. Smith, according to Provincial Police reports.

The jury added a rider to its verdict, recommending that the private crossing at which the accident took place be eliminated and moved south to a point "of better visibility." If such recommendation was consistent with the rights and conveniences of adjoining property owners.

Leamont, was sentenced to six years in prison yesterday. Leamont, in asking for the court's mercy, said: "I feel ashamed of myself and I think it is time I got hold of myself." "I'm going to give you that time," Magistrate H. G. Johnston said. "For your own good."

Port Alberni Cafe Damaged By Fire

PORT ALBERNI—Fire which broke out in the basement of the Victor Cafe early Thursday morning, caused damage estimated between $5,000 and $6,000.

The fire blazed rapidly up the side of the building and, though the interior of the restaurant escaped damage, the burned-out wiring shut off the refrigeration plant. Alterations were being made to the building at the time of the fire and will be delayed to some extent.

A landmark in the district, the building was used as an office in the early days by Dr. C. T. Hilton, pioneer Alberni Valley doctor.

Boy Scouts of the Greater Victoria will hold their annual rally at the Douglas Street grounds of Beacon Hill Park, Saturday afternoon at 2.

Lieutenant Governor Charles A. Banks will take the salute and the march past and representatives from the navy, the army, the air force and the U.S. Consul will be in attendance.

After the march past awards will be made to certain troops. Following this ceremony the Scouts will break off into groups and will give a demonstration of their specialized training. The demonstration will include all phases of Boy Scout field craft—first aid, compass reading, map reading, fire lighting, water boiling, signalling, tree identification, axmanship and lashing.

Troop Leader Macgregor MacIntosh, who will attend the World Scout Jamboree in France, will break the flag when the mayor and reeves arrive.

Barbara Ann Scott Simply Can't Win

TORONTO (CP)—Sometimes a girl just can't win, and Barbara Ann Scott, who rode out a tempest in a teapot storm concerning her gift automobile knows it.

The diminutive world champion amateur figure skater who allegedly jeopardized her amateur status by accepting a gift automobile from the city of Ottawa, and who returned the car to make the Olympic officials happy, can't get away from the fiasco.

Recently she drove with her friend Betty Caldwell to Prescott, Ont., to visit friends. They traveled in Miss Caldwell's automobile, a model similar to the one Barbara Ann was forced to return. But the Caldwell car is black.

On returning to Ottawa, the girls stopped to visit a friend, and when they re-entered the automobile there was a note

Barking Dog Arouses Animosity Neighbors Take Case To Court

"He barks at anything . . . goes through 30 to 50 tirades of barking a day . . . even barks when a breeze moves a twig in the trees . . . definitely is not habitually noisy . . . does not bark any more than any normal dog."

And so it went for more than an hour in city police court this morning when evidence condemning and defending a citizen's dog went on before Magistrate Henry C. Hall. A neighbor had laid the charge under the city by-law regarding "habitually noisy" dogs.

After hearing the evidence pro and con, Magistrate Hall agreed with the complainant that the dog was not a good influence to a 13-month-old child, because it destroyed its sleeping schedule and because its noisiness was giving the child's mother nervous troubles.

He suggested that defence counsel, Norman Whittaker, K.C., and the defendant get together to have the dog removed from the scene. If this could not be arranged the magistrate said he would have no alternative other than to deal with the matter in another way.

DOGS SELDOM COURT SUBJECTS

Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison, in an aside, noted that police get a lot of complaints about dogs, but that it was seldom that the case came down to a court action.

The complainant was asked by defence counsel if he had ever called his dog-owner neighbors "stinkers," to which the man said "well, I might have, but they've probably called us that, too."

Seven witnesses paraded to the witness box to give testimony for the Crown when the dog, a valuable Dutch breed, was referred to as habitually prominently displayed on the steering wheel. "Who do you think you're fooling with the black paint?" it read. "We're wise to you."

noisy, a dog with a piercing high bark, one that barks night and day with the least provocation and an aggravating pest, to mention a few of the phrases used.

Constable A. Appleton said when he attended to answer to a complaint the dog owner had told him it was due to a neighborhood quarrel, "probably spite."

For the defence, however, seven persons also took the stand in the dog's defence. Here there were charges the statements were exaggerated, that the dog in question barked no more than a normal dog.

The wife of the complainant told the court she was becoming highly nervous as a result of the dog barking.

A doctor testified that he had treated the wife for headaches and nervous tension and when asked by Mr. Harrison if the dog could be the cause of this he said: "It could be causative."

The owner said at times he had made efforts to quieten the dog. Magistrate Hall said the important thing to do was to see that neighbors' children are not bothered by the dog in future. He felt the dog had a bad effect on the baby and mother "and something should be done here to re-establish good neighbor relations."

To Recommend Low Refrigeration Bid

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the Civic Ice Arena, will recommend to today's city council meeting, that the tender of the Canadian Ice Company at Vancouver for $56,548 for refrigeration and installation for the Memorial Arena, be accepted.

It was the lower of two tenders sent in. The other tender for $62,907 was entered by the Canadian Line Company at Vancouver.

ALWAYS READY FOR HIS MEALS

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, C, D, Riboflavin (B<sub>2</sub>), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underperforms, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

English Artist Here For Summer

MRS. G. BALLY-HAYES, London.

Although in Victoria less than a week, Mrs. G. Baly-Hayes has developed a sincere enthusiasm for this city which she thinks an ideal place to settle down and resume the work closest to her heart, that of capturing floral beauty on her painter's canvas.

The clever artist arrived from London recently aboard a Dutch steamer, for her second visit to Canada. She visited in many of the larger cities before reaching the coast.

Traveling, she admits is one of her weaknesses, and lists on her amazing itinerary such places as Hawaii, Honolulu and Mexico. She has traveled widely in many European countries, spending last summer in Denmark.

The desire to paint began in Mrs. Baly-Hayes' early childhood, and when her talent with paint brush and easel became apparent, she studied under Frank Brangwyn and figure painter, Tukey, both well-known English artists.

Besides her special love for flower painting, Mrs. Baly-Hayes is also accomplished in children's portrait painting.

Examples of her work have been exhibited in Royal Academy, Rowley Gallery and Mansard Gallery, London, England. She is now waiting arrival of her canvases here, and at a future date plans to exhibit them in several eastern cities.

At present Mrs. Baly-Hayes is becoming acquainted with the city and hopes soon to have a studio of her own here.

She is staying at The Old England Guest House, Lampson Street.

Moya Porter Wed In Simple Ceremony

In the presence of family members and intimate friends, marriage vows were made by Miss Moya Madeleine Porter, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Porter, 2806 Foul Bay Road, and Leonard C. Johnson, only son of Mrs. F. Kermode, Victoria, and the late C. Johnson, in the rectory of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Thursday at 7.45.

A reception for 125 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, where T. R. Myers proposed the bridal toast. Pink illusion net dotted with rosebuds and carnations, wreathed the three-tier wedding cake centred on the round table, beneath wedding bells suspended from the ceiling. Mothers of the couple assisted in receiving guests before the fireplace, massed with pink blooms.

Kenneth H. Porter gave his sister in marriage. She chose for the occasion snow white net over rustling taffeta, with cape shoulder effect, bodice fitted into the bouffant skirt, double flounced. Her veil, held by orange blossoms, was elbow length, and roses and swansonia formed her round bouquet. She wore a pearl necklace with earrings to match, and the groom's gift, a watch.

Fresh pink organdy with eyellet embroidery was fashioned into a full skirted gown with off-the-shoulder ruffle for Miss Jean Markland, maid of honor. Pink gloves and mohair hat were also chosen by Miss Markland, who carried a Colonial bouquet.

The groom who graduated last year from University of B.C., with a B.Sc. Degree in civil engineering, was attended by George Douglas. Rev. J. Buckley read the marriage service.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are motoring to southern California and will return to Victoria to make their home. For traveling Mrs. Johnson wore a tailored suit of pale blue gabardine with navy topcoat, black and white accessories and corsage bouquet of white gladioli.

Material Shower — For the benefit of the annual sale, a material shower and tea was held by members of St. George's Church W.A. at Ganges Inn, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. G. H. Holmes was hostess and gifts were received by Mrs. W. Norton. Tea conveners were Mrs. E. Adams, and Mrs. F. Sharpe, assisted by Mesdames H. C. Carter, B. Jackson, and W. Taylor.

Decorated Tables Clear Sum Of $547

A sum of $547.95 was cleared at the recent decorated table display at the Empress Hotel. It was announced at a meeting of the Junior Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital held Monday in the Nurses' Home.

Mrs. R. S. O'Meara presided and tentative plans were made for a jamboree and dance to be held at the Crystal Garden in September.

Mrs. Norman Baker reported proceeds from the sale of tickets for "Pygmalion" presented recently by the Little Theatre players and asked that members return tickets or the amount due to her at 1210 Monterey Avenue.

Show case sales during the month amounted to $11.75. Mrs. T. W. Walker reported 48 home visits and Mrs. F. G. Aldous told of 100 hospital visits during the month. Miss M. McBride, social service worker, reported that a large number of hospital patients had been assisted with post-hospital care, maternity cases aided, nursing homes found for needy cases and in many instances personal problems had been attended to. Mrs. W. Wilkinson's report of the occupational therapy unertakings showed an increase in interest and scope. The Thrift Shop had netted $72.58 during the month.

The following new members were welcomed: Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. S. W. Mackintosh, Miss McLeod and Miss Emily Elsworth.

Initiation Held — The regular meeting of W.B.A. Review No. 1 was held with Mrs. Alice Malcolm presiding. One new member was initiated. A memorial service will be held in First Baptist Church Sunday morning. Plans were made for a bingo party at the next meeting. Refreshments were served.

Stop HAY FEVER

Hay Fever needn't plague you with its sneezing and wheezing, its blowing and gasping, its sore, streaming, itching irritation of eyes and ears. Just do what thousands have done to get fast, safe relief—take Templeton's RAZ-MAH. You'll sleep better, work better, feel better. 50c, $1 at drug stores everywhere.

Sunday Golden Wedding Day

Observing their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday will be Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Standen, 1222 Pandora Avenue, who will celebrate the occasion, with an "at home" to friends on Monday from 3 to 5 and in the evening from 8 to 10. The couple, who were married at Minesing, Ont., moved to Weyburn, Sask., in 1899, and were among the first pioneers of that district. Later moving to Penticton, they fruit-farmed for 31 years. Mr. and Mrs. Standen, who have been residents of Victoria since 1944, have one son, Dr. Calvin W. Standen, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Personals

Friends gathered for a surprise party Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Byram, 2188 Central Avenue, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Supper was served from a table centred with a large wedding cake made and decorated by Miss Susan Irving. Mr. Colin Wood proposed a toast to the honor guests and presented them with gifts from those present. Mrs. Byram also received a corsage bouquet of red roses and sweet peas. The evening was spent in singing and playing cards. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Berwick, Mr. and Mrs. F. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chadderton, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dingwall, Mr. and Mrs. D. Mesher, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roe, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Weeks, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Byram, and Mrs. Cecelia Bowman of Culver City, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Byram were married on June 3, 1922, in Calgary when Mr. Byram was a patient in the Colonel By Military Hospital, having been invalided home from France. They came to Victoria in 1924 and have lived here ever since.

Motor To Alberta Following Wedding

En route to Alberta via Vancouver, Seattle and Montana is the former Anita, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil West, of Rodway, Alta., and her groom P.O. Wesley C. McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. McKay, 3074 Earl Grey Street, whose marriage took place Tuesday evening at St. John's Church. Rev. George Biddle officiated.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore traditional satin with lily-point sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. A halo of net and orange blossoms held her full-length veil and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and gardenias. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls.

Miss Kay Ring as maid of honor, chose sky blue sheer with pink net headpiece. Her Colonial bouquet was of pink and white carnations, centred with roses.

Lorne Shandley was best man for his cousin and Maurice Barry and Robert Shandley, also cousins of the groom, acted as ushers.

Miss Mona McLean was the soloist, and F. Chubb presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. N. McLean, Esquimalt Lagoon, where Mrs. West and Mrs. McKay assisted in welcoming guests. Charles Banfield, great uncle of the groom, proposed the bridal toast.

For traveling, the bride changed to a brown suit with white feather hat, white accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKay will make their home in Victoria.

Picture Display At Saturday's Tea

What's 'At'? ... by Irvine Dawson

A summer tea and exhibition of photographic art by The Victoria Camera Club will be sponsored by the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League, this Saturday afternoon from 3 until 5, at the Crystal Garden. The tea is under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks.

Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. Harold Husband, Mrs. Irvine Dawson and Mrs. W. C. Mainwaring will preside at the tea.

Proceeds will be in aid of the crippled children. Victoria Camera Club exhibit of photographs will be continued at the Crystal Garden, Monday and Tuesday, afternoon and evening.

Coope, supervisor; Miss J. E. M. Bruce, secretary; and Mrs. H. Campbell and Miss Marjorie Baird.

At the June class meeting workers enthusiastically welcomed Dr. Richard Felton, committee chairman at the inception of the service, who gave a splendidly practical and informative talk on prevention and treatment of simple infections of the skin. The best antiseptic known, he declared, was ordinary soap and water, used liberally and often.

While the majority of the cases were those where a mother substitute was needed while the mother was in hospital with a new baby, a variety of other calls were met. Of the eleven veterans' homes assisted during the first five months of 1947, the presence of the housekeeper proved in several instances of definite help in rehabilitating the family after war-time separations. In others the young war bride, without friends in this country, has been helped to adjust to the new life here by having a competent and sympathetic housekeeper to care for her and the new baby when she returned from hospital.

A number of senior citizens suddenly stricken with sickness or other misfortune have also been seen through a difficult period while waiting for a distant member of the family to come and take charge.

Straight maternity and post-maternity cases employing housekeepers during May numbered eleven.

One of the continued difficulties within the service itself has been the continued big turnover of workers, although three of the housekeepers who joined the service the first year are still with the group. A central committee of five directs the service, with Dr. Olga Jardine as chairman; Mrs. R.

Course For Practical Nurses Starts Soon

The Department of Veterans' Affairs has announced that a 12-month course will be started in Canadian Vocational Training schools for practical nurses, beginning June 23.

At the present time there is and will be in the future, a large demand for practical trained nurses and indications are that hospitals and private sources could absorb 78 trained practical nurses almost at once.

The pay of a practical nurse has not yet been set, but at the present time rates are averaging around $4 a day where any graduate registers under the National Employment Service.

Ex-servicemen interested in this course should write or visit the Supervisor of Training, Department of Veterans' Affairs, 1231 Haro Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Happy Valley—Annual meeting of Happy Valley Parent Teacher Association was held in the school with F. J. Willway presiding. Mrs. W. Waters was elected president for the coming year with Mrs. Fred Willing, vice-president; Mrs. G. Blogg, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. Hiscok, social convener; Mrs. G. F. Peatt, program; Mrs. W. Allen, publicity; Mrs. G. White, membership. Mrs. D. Richards and the teaching staff are also members of the executive. Announcement was made that the annual picnic will take place at Witty's Beach on June 26 and to raise funds for picnic expenses a court whist drive will be held on June 13 at the home of Mrs. G. White, Happy Valley Road.

St. Mary's Juniors—At the last meeting of this season of the St. Mary's Junior A.Y.P.A. Tony Clark was elected president for the coming year. Other officers are Michael Hanna, vice-president; Mally Page, secretary; Mona Hopkins, treasurer. After the meeting an initiation of the following new members was held in the chapel: Cecil Gould, Shirley Pauline, Carolyn Pauline and Murray Saunders. After initiation a short talk was given by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

Mrs. Alice Kimmitt Re-elected President

Annual meeting of the Soroptimist Club of Greater Victoria was held last evening at the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. Alice Kimmitt was re-elected president for the ensuing year, together with the following officers: First vice-president Miss Ella Walker; second vice-president, Miss Lillian Milne; recording secretary, Miss Olive Heritage; corresponding secretary, Miss Dorothy Tate; treasurer, Miss Marion Storey; directors, Mrs. Ruth Greenleaf, for three years; Mrs. Sarah McMartin, for two years, and Mrs. A. M. Robertson filling the last year of her three-year term.

Treasurer's report showed finances of the club were good. The president, in her annual report, commented on the various activities of the members during the last year as regards money-making for sponsored projects.

It was decided to hold the annual installation dinner in September, and to hold no business meetings during the summer. Miss Rae Kirkendale reported on the use made of the room furnished by the Soroptimist Club in the Juvenile Detention Home, and on the progress of a young girl in which the club is interested.

Members stood in silence in memory of an honorary member, Miss Mary Lawson, M.B.E., who died recently, and also in respect to the memory of Mrs. A. Patton, and F. Robertson, relatives of two members of the club.

Ready-made curtains with selvedge edge of fabric showing will hang better if the selvedge is trimmed off and replaced with a narrow hem.

Engagements

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at the Times Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines, and 10c for each additional line.

The engagement is announced of Miss Jessie Mildred Read, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Read, 1762 Pembroke Street, Victoria, to Mr. George W. F. Rendle, 2542 Wark Street, Victoria. The wedding will take place in the very near future.

Girl Guide Notes

Colquitz—The First Colquitz Local Association of Guides and Brownies held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. N. Layritz. Plans for a guide picnic were made and it was announced the next meeting would be held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. H. Scrimshaw, Roy Road.

A wallpaper panel can substitute as a headboard over a bed. The panel should be pasted on the wall in an area the width of a bed and headboard height. Narrow wood moulding or a wallpaper border outlining the panel completes the illusion.

B.C. Divorce Total Second To Ontario

OTTAWA (CP)—Divorces in Canada are on the increase the Bureau of Statistics disclosed Thursday in announcing that last year 7,554 divorces were granted in Canada, compared with 5,076 for the previous year.

New Brunswick topped the list of provinces with the greatest increase at 123 per cent, and Ontario was at the bottom with 29 per cent. British Columbia and Ontario granted more divorces last year than other sections of Canada, but percentage increases in these two provinces were lower than the average for the Dominion as a whole.

Divorces last year for the provinces, with 1945 figures bracketed: Ontario, 2,510 (1,940); B.C., 2,005 (1,366); Alberta, 962 (575); Manitoba, 636 (405); Saskatchewan, 505 (282); New Brunswick, 382 (171); Quebec, 290 (177); Nova Scotia, 260 (158); Prince Edward Island, 4 (2).

Bow Tie Lights Up

Just a bow tie until...

...you press the switch. Here's how it's wired to pocket battery.

Gents, that tie you're wearing will be as corny as button shoes before you know it. Brightest light on the haberdashery horizon today is the electrically lighted bow tie. What looks like an ordinary bow tie becomes a sensational creation by merely pressing a battery button concealed in the pants pocket. Department store that introduced this "shocking" novelty in Cleveland is being swamped with orders by the city's "cats" who are hep to a reel number when they see one.

Installment Plan Buying Returns With More Merchandise On Market

Installment plan buying is being featured by stores and accepted by buyers in Victoria to an increasing extent as more merchandise is available.

More charges accounts are also being opened a survey in Victoria shows. The installment practice, however, has not reached the "dollar down" prewar days, but most businessmen agree that credit buying has increased two or threefold since the war. Credit experts say all this confirms that money is getting scarcer.

Major retailers report that Victorians are opening up and have reopened new accounts which were not active during the war.

Many of these charge accounts were reopened during the nylon shortage, when stores began offering nylons to credit customers. Women began opening such accounts everywhere they thought there might be nylons, and this created a temporary flurry in credit circles. But the stores discovered that women who thought they were only looking for nylons actually bought other things, and many such accounts turned into good ones.

A large furniture store reported that credits had increased about 15 per cent during the last few months. Smaller stores, who cater to the lower income bracket group, say that consumer credit has increased 25 per cent.

Businessmen differ as to the reasons for the increase in the installment practice. They point out that during the war, most people preferred to pay cash for goods because they were earning more money. When the war ended the basic wage did not go down, but the "family group" income greatly decreased due the absence of overtime and fewer members of the family working.

MORE ARE BORROWING
Banks and personal loan companies also report an increased business in loans during the past year. They say most people are borrowing money to pay medical expenses, to build homes or to pay vacation expenses.

A manager of a large loan company said most people were borrowing money for good reasons, and were careful of their investments.

As far as the collection end was concerned, credit experts, were all of the same opinion that Victoria "was one of the cleanest cities when it came to paying up bills."

"John Q. Citizen is paying his bills," said Harry Dawson of the Credit Bureau of Victoria. "Victoria has a better paying record than any other city in Canada."

Mr. Dawson's organization has nearly 600 members who keep a continued check on credits in Victoria, and who interchanges information with 1,350 similar groups in this country and the United States.

He said before the war, losses from bad credit ran about 1/2 of 1 per cent, while losses today amounted to 1-20 of 1 per cent.

Another big boom in credit was in the making of automobiles, refrigerators, ranges and other "hard goods" become more plentiful and possibly a little cheaper, predicted Mr. Dawson.

"They cost too much for many to pay cash," he said, "and so time payments will be in demand."

Mr. Dawson said there was ab-

Stores Looted From Wrecked Ship

VANCOUVER (CP)—The shadow of maritime grave-robbers hangs over the hulk of the wrecked Seattle steamship North Sea, hung up on treacherous reefs in Seaforth Channel, near Bella Bella, where it ran aground earlier this year.

Maritime officials were reported on the lookout for persons responsible for looting stores aboard the derelict, and while no arrests were made, several persons have been searched at a northern B.C. port.

The hulk was sold by its Seattle owners to a B.C. concern which stripped winches, lifeboats, furniture, linen and other salvageable articles from it and sold the "bones" to an Ocean Falls scrap firm.

Film Council News

Two groups of films were previewed by representatives of educational and recreational organizations at the National Film Board Office. The first was a group of physical fitness films, including: "Analysis of Agility Exercises," "Progressive Training in Ball Handling," "Diving" and "Floating and Ornamental Swimming."

The second group dealt with various subjects: "Out of a Chinese Painting Brush," "Leather Work," "Decorative Metal Work," "Invitation to the Dance," "Patterns of American Rural Art" and "Percussion Group."

The monthly meeting of the Greater Victoria Film Council will be June 6, at 1255 Langley Street, commencing at 8.

To Call By-election In Saskatchewan

SASKATOON (CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said Thursday the C.C.F. government will call a by-election this summer and allow Walter Tucker, Saskatchewan Liberal leader and member of Parliament for Rosthern, to enter the provincial Legislature unopposed if the present member for the provincial constituency of Rosthern will resign his seat.

Mr. Douglas was commenting on the unanimous nomination Wednesday night of Mr. Tucker as candidate in the provincial riding.

Mr. Douglas said there is no reason for a provincial election this year, nor was there any truth to rumors that the cabinet was split on the question of an election this year.

Charge against a woman taxi driver for not having a 1947 chauffeur's permit, was dismissed in city court Thursday by Magistrate H. C. Hall when both C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, and Alan Baker, defence counsel, stressed to court that the Motor Vehicle Act does not state a permit must be taken out annually. Evidence showed the woman had a 1946 permit "but the act does not say there must be a renewal each year," Mr. Harrison said.

Tudor Minstrel Solid Favorite For Derby

EPSOM DOWNS, Eng. (AP)—Britain's bookies were hedging hurriedly today against a strong possibility that the odds-on favorite Tudor Minstrel would win tomorrow's Epsom Derby and so end a disastrous Derby week for the betting boys.

With the French filly Imprudence taking yesterday's running of the 165th Oaks Stakes at a 7 to 4 price, the bookies have shelled out on 12 winning Epsom favorites in 18 races run since the meeting opened Tuesday.

One Australian professional better was reported to have won $40,000 ($160,000) on one race alone, while a large betting firm was said to be out $5,000 more than that on one day's racing.

Tudor Minstrel, quoted at 5 to 6 in the latest call-over, was "in the pink," his Beckhampton trainers reported.

Fifteen probable starters remained in tomorrow's classic, but Tudor Minstrel still appeared invincible. Sire, grandsire and great-grand sire of the unbeaten favorite were all Derby winners in their day.

With champion rider Gordon Richards up, those punters who plunk "two bob" on every mount he rides were pulling for the little jockey to boot home his first Derby winner, Richards, at 43, has ridden nearly 3,300 winners, but he has yet to capture the greatest of all English flat racing classics.

Army And Navy Taxi Beat Hudson's Bay For Initial Triumph

It took Army and Navy Taxi quite a spell to prove to the powers that be that they belong in the senior A softball loop, to which they were elevated shortly after the start of the season, and last night at Central Park they did it the hard way, edging out the strong Hudson's Bay nine 3 to 1 in one of the best-played games of the season.

Taking an early lead in the first inning when they tallied twice, the taxi-femmes held their slim margin doggedly behind the effective hurling of Pratt. After Bays had scored once in the fourth, winners sewed up the contest in the fifth with Lindgren smashing a home run.

Penquins defeated Army and Navy Vets 5 to 3 in a senior B men's game to move into second place in division one standings, while in another B contest R.C. A.F. gained an 8 to 7 win over Sidcoes.

Don Harvey's senior B girls added to their lead in the women's loop by smothering New Method Laundry 26 to 3. Two big innings, the first and the fourth, provided nearly all of the scoring with the winners scoring eight and 11 runs respectively in each canto.

Schooners bounced Esquimalt Taxi 18 to 10 in a junior boys' game to move into a second-place tie with Douglas Hawkes in that loop. Black and Whites lead the league.

Electrons Unbeaten In Colwood District Softball League

Standings of the Colwood and District Softball League as released by president Al Quinn to day show Findlay Electrons to be leading the men's senior B loop with the impressive record of seven victories and no defeats.

Marigold lead the junior boys' section with an equally impressive mark of four wins in as many starts while Langford juveniles head their section with three wins and one loss.

Games this week at Langford saw Langford seniors defeat Jordan River 15 to 7 and Sooke juveniles take the measure of the Langford nine 18 to 10.

League standings follow:

Mrs. Jack Todd Bids For B.C. Golf Title

Today's intercity 36-hole final for the British Columbia women's golf championship at the Uplands Club, had Mrs. Jack Todd, Oak Bay, engaging Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan, Quilchena Club, Vancouver. Yesterday's semifinals saw Mrs. Todd turn back medalist Miss Isabel Jarvis, Gorge Vale, 5 and 4, and Mrs. O'Callaghan eliminate the defending champion, Miss Winnifred Evans, Shaughnessy Club, Vancouver, 4 and 2.

Importance of a provincial tournament appeared to catch up with Miss Jarvis in yesterday's match as she was definitely nervous, with the result her play suffered. On the other hand, Mrs. Todd was steady and made her greater tournament experience pay off. Posting a one-over-par 40 for the first nine, Mrs. Todd gained a two-hole lead and at the 13th had her opponent dormie. The 13th was halved and the match was all over.

Mrs. O'Callaghan, herself a former B.C. titleholder, played too much golf for Miss Evans, who put up a game fight. Victories at the sixth, seventh and eighth holes gave Mrs. O'Callaghan a 3 up margin at the turn. Miss Evans rallied to win the 11th and 13th only to have her opponent take the 12th and 14th to retain her edge. Successive birdies on the next two holes, on the strength of long putts, closed out the match.

Flight results follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP CONSOLATION
Mrs. B. Hicks defeated Mrs. S. Thompson at 12th.
Mrs. G. E. Harris defeated Miss M. Young, 1 up.

FIRST FLIGHT
Mrs. J. McCracken defeated Miss Claire Martin, 3 and 1.
Miss Mckenzie-Grieve won by default.

Tillicums Outclass Jokers In Speedy Lacrosse Tilt

Displaying far too much speed and stick handling ability for their older opponents, Sid Anderson's youthful gutted stick artists, Tillicums, chalked up an easy 10 to 7 victory over the Bill Andrews' coached Jokers squad in a league boxla match last night before about 300 fans.

The clubmen's victory moved them into second place in the league standings with a record of three victories and one defeat. Legion lead the loop with four wins in as many starts.

Never hard pressed, Tillicums enjoyed a 4 to 1 lead at the end of the first quarter and an 8 to 3 margin at the half. They wound up their scoring in the third period, tallying twice to the losers' once. Jokers made a belated attempt to catch the flying juniors in the final canto and did outscore the winners three goals to naught, but the uprising came far too late.

On the relatively few occasions on which he was tested, Les Aitken of the Tillicums was steady in the nets, while at the other end burly Bill Andrews failed to receive any kind of defensive support and was the victim of many breakaways and close-in shots on which he had little chance.

Red McMillan and Larry Booth were the pick of the winners and Andy Ovcharik and Ray Douglas the best of the losers.

A.A.U. Decides Contentious 'Broken Time' Payment Measure

LONDON (AP)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation is scheduled to reach a showdown Monday on whether athletes should run for gold and glory—or be content with cheers alone.

So important is the proposed change in amateur rules that 45 of the 53 countries in the I.A.A.F. are expected to fill their chairs with delegates at the specially convened congress.

The red letter topic on the program is the money matter—payment of "broken time" which has been brewing since the I.A.A.F. meeting at Oslo last August.

Subsequently the four Scandinavian nations, plus Holland, Iceland and Czechoslovakia requested a special congress so that they could have the answer prior to the 1948 Olympic Games.

Sweden wrote the proposal that a needy athlete's relative could

Seals Take Over Undisputed Lead In Coast Baseball

Out of the revolving door known as the Coast League race the San Francisco Seals came first today. It could have been Oakland, or Los Angeles. But the Seals staggered out first. The Seals, through the southpaw graces of big Cliff Melton, sailed through the Sacramento Solons, 6 to 1. It was a four-hitter Melton tossed at the Solons, and Joe Marty's homer was the only run for the Seals. Five runs off Al Smith in the eighth broke up the southpaw duel.

The Angels moved into second place, a half game back, by way of Red Adams' six-hit, 3 to 1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

Oakland, like most visiting teams in Portland, had a rough time with the Beavers, absorbing a pair of drubbings, 6 to 2 and 18 to 2.

The fallen Oaks, losing their third straight to the Portlanders, woke up to find themselves third, 1½ games off the pack.

The other contest saw the Seattle Rainiers walloping Hollywood 6 to 1 and supplanting the Stars in seventh place.

By PETE SALLAWAY

FAILURE of softball umpires to turn up at some scheduled games this season has resulted in considerable criticism of the boys who make the calls. Rising to the defence of the officials, Dick Reeve, secretary of the Umpires' Association, comes out with the statement that much of the fault finding is unwarranted. "There are leagues in the city that have not lived up to what was asked of them by the Umpires' Association with regard to schedules and contracts," Reeve said.

CONTINUING the umpires' secretary said: "The umpires group has been handicapped by the great number of leagues in operation, the large number of parks in use and the shortage of men willing to officiate. I would urge anyone interested in the welfare of softball to offer his services as an umpire for as much or as little time as he can spare."

USUALLY the loudest critics are those grandstand umpires who call every play right. Now here is their opportunity to prove to the remainder of the public and to the players, who make the game one of the most popular summer sports here, that their prime interest is in the game, not criticism of it. In regard to the dispute between the leagues and the umpires' association that issue can only be settled between the two parties. Surely some mutual agreement can be reached that would be satisfactory to all concerned.

ALAN HARVEY, Canadian Press writer, comes up with some interesting baseball comment. He writes: "A baseball player who could be trapped on the hidden-ball play twice in one day sounds like a candidate for the ladies' bloomer league, but it happened to Rabbit Maraville, who used to be a wily man on the base paths. Manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn Dodgers explains it this way. Rabbit was trapped off base during a game and that evening the shortstop's teammates persuaded him to order ice cream for dessert. When he dug his spoon into the concoction, Maraville uncovered a shiny new baseball."

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS, overwhelming pre-season favorites for the National League flag, now trail the field of the other seven clubs have been in first place at least once this season. New York Giants have a right-handed pitcher who throws so hard his left arm is lame. The club physician, with an explanation not quite satisfactory to the layman, says merely that Clint Hartung's swishing movement is so violent it produces greater strain on his non-throwing arm.

Eagles Meet Gasmen In Senior Ball Tilt

Senior amateur baseball action at Athletic Park tonight will feature the appearance of the league-leading Eagles and the third-place Pitzer and Nex squad starting at 7.

Murray MacArthur, young righthander of Rosy McLellan's team, is almost certain to get tonight's starting assignment, while Gar Taylor's choice will probably be another youngster, southpaw Bob Brousseau.

Legion Club Primed For Cup Soccer Tilt

At Macdonald Park tomorrow night, at 6.15, Canadian Legion will attempt to make soccer history. The occasion is a semifinal of the Province Cup series with the Pacific Coast League champions, Vancouver St. Andrews as the big hurdle in the veterans' bid for provincial recognition.

Legion, currently the hottest football team in town, started the upheaval of island soccer by knocking United out of the provincial championships with a brilliant display of team spirit and play a week ago Wednesday night.

Matched with Nanaimo, other island coast league team, on Saturday the veterans again surprised their most ardent supporters by outplaying the coal-towners.

Upsets are not rare in cup ties, as the Vets will tell you, for earlier in the season they themselves were victims of a surprising Navy team in a cup game. If you ask Legion players about the match, all they say is "This is it," and for either St. Andrews or Legion it is, as the winner will advance into the provincial final, with a crack at the Canadian title as the final prize.

LEGION LINE-UP

Guarding the twine for the veterans will be the veteran of them all, manager Louis DeCosta, with rangy Vic Dale standing by. Joe Robbins and P. Andrejcek will form the first line of defence with Alec McCormick, Sid Robbins and Ernie Costain on the half line. Andy Anderson at left wing, Cliff Robbins at inside left, George Kulai at centre-forward, Ray Oliver at inside right and George Pickup at outside right will make up the attacking force.

For reserves DeCosta can pick from Glen Robbins, Charlie Musgrave, Eddie Wiseman and Thompson.

St. Andrews need little introduction to the ardent football fan. They swept all before them in Coast League play this season and rate as one of the classiest eleven ever to come out of the mainland city.

Frank Ambler, prolific high scorer of the Scots, is one man the Legion will have to cover. He is definitely the star of the team. However, there are others on the firing line who can make the game more than interesting for the opposition with such names as Dave Brown, Jimmy Greig, John MacKay, Wes Henderson and Don Matheson gracing the visitors' line-up.

Win, lose or draw, the Legion's battle with the mainland eleven should be the highlight of the already spectacular season and one of the top crowds of the year is expected to witness the match.

Burrards Increase Box Lacrosse Lead

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards moved into a two-game lead in the Intercity Box Lacrosse League Thursday night as they withstood a withering last-quarter attack to defeat New Westminster Adanacs 14 to 13.

Adanacs were trailing 12 to 7 at the end of the third quarter, but roared through the Burrard defence for six goals, while holding the Vancouver club to two markers.

Rookie Taylor Great Brooklyn Mound Find

Freshman Harry Taylor, whose third straight pitching victory coincided with Brooklyn's arrival in first place, is hailed in flatbush as the man who could pitch the Dodgers to the National League pennant.

Beaten in his first big league start at Cincinnati, May 13, Taylor did time in the bullpen, relieving five times before manager Burt Shotton gave him another starting chance against New York Giants. Taylor humiliated the Giants' home run sluggers 14 to 2 with a five-hitter and followed with the same against St. Louis.

Fritz Ostermueller was his opponent yesterday. Taylor turned in his best effort, a two-hit 3 to 0 victory over Pittsburgh.

The victory boosted the Brooks into the lead because the Giants and Chicago Cubs, who had been tied for first place, split a doubleheader at the Polo Grounds.

Jackie Robinson's homer and two singles and Bruce Edwards' three hits backed up Taylor's pitching.

After Paul Erickson of the Cubs had tamed the Giants with three hits in a 5 to 1 opening game, Mel Ott's gang slashed away at three Chicago throwers for an eight-run third inning to even matters with a 9 to 3 decision. Monty Kennedy, sent right back after being knocked out yesterday, came through with his fifth triumph.

Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell ran his victory total to seven by shutting out the Phillies 5 to 0 with six hits. The Reds flattened Ken Raffensberger with a five-run first inning. Harry Gumbert's fine relief pitching enabled the Reds to take the second game 6 to 3 for a clean sweep of the doubleheader.

Marty Marion's homer with two on in the ninth inning enabled St. Louis Cardinals to pull out a 5 to 3 decision over Boston's Johnny Sain. It was the sixth win for Harry Brecheen.

New York Yankees blanked Detroit 7 to 0 on Spud Chandler's three-hit work.

Fisticuffs involving catcher Ralph Houk, utility infielder Johnny Locadello of the Yanks and pitcher Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers enlivened proceedings. Houk and Hutchinson were banished.

Jesse Flores' three-hitter boosted Philadelphia's A's into a third place tie with Boston and Cleveland on a 5 to 2 victory over Chicago's Edgar Smith. Early Wynn of Washington shut out Cleveland 3 to 0 with six hits in a game marred by an injury to manager Lou Boudreau of the tribe.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Henry Cotton "came back Thursday on the old course, St. Andrews, where he shot a brilliant 69 for a two-round aggregate of 143 to head the list of 39 final qualifiers by three strokes in the Spalding $6,000 pro golf tourney.

Among Cotton's closest challengers were: H. Bradshaw and Jimmy Adams, 146; Norman von Nida of Australia, 147; Charlie Ward, 148; Flory Van Donck (Belgium), Jack Panton and Dai Rees, 148.

Cordova Bay Club Plans Sports Day, Swimming Lessons

At the meeting of Cordova Bay Community Club in McMorran's Hall, H. D. Radford presiding, D. Fletcher, sports convener, announced that Victoria Swimming Club had offered to give swimming lessons Saturday afternoons, at 2.30, to all adults and children who wish to learn to swim. First lesson will be given tomorrow. The lessons are given free. Already a large class has been enrolled.

A sports day has been arranged to be held on the beach July 1. Program will open at 10.30 in the morning and will continue during the afternoon as long as the tide permits. A community picnic is being arranged for the noon hour. In the evening there will be a softball game, the Boys' Club challenging the men of the Community Club.

Mr. Fletcher has also arranged for the showing of the moving picture film "The World Series of 1946" and other baseball features in McMorran's Hall next Monday at 8.

A "Klondike" night is planned for some future date to raise funds for the club.

It was decided to send a delegation to the Saanich Municipal Zoning Board to protest against the rezoning of certain areas in Cordova Bay.

Special objection was taken to the rezoning of the lots in the immediate vicinity of the Anglican church property, as the creation of a commercial area there might cause some disturbance.

Noel Andrews, director of community improvements, reported that his committee had taken up with the Saanich Municipality several matters concerning improvements at Cordova Bay, and although consideration of all requests was promised, no action has as yet been taken, except in the matter of relocating the B.C. Power Co.'s line.

It was decided to continue to press for these improvements, especially for easier approaches to the beach.

Good For 10 Years

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stolid Chinese imperturbability vied with fast-moving downtown traffic here Thursday when Lum Se-chong's ancient model "T" Ford which he "bought second hand in 1917," suddenly went pigeon-toed at a busy intersection.

Lum lit his pipe and settled back behind the wheel. A traffic officer who asked for his driver's license asked why the Chinese didn't get a modern, new truck to peddle his vegetables.

"New truck too fast," Lum explained. "This one good for 10 years yet, maybe more. Get this one fixed."

Sunbathing Pensioners Found In Stanley Park

VANCOUVER (CP) — Elusive, nude figures, seen flitting through the foliage of Vancouver's 1,000-acre Stanley Park from time-to-time have been identified not as wood-nymphs, but as old-age pensioners.

Constable F. C. Errington of the police mounted squad made the 'discovery' Thursday when he rode into a clearing to discover a 75-year-old sunbather doing his exercises.

The man told the officer the park had been used for sunbathing by aged nudists for more than 10 years, and added shamefacedly: "Usually we post a lookout, but today I was alone." Constable Errington let him go.

June 12 Set For Airpark Rezoning By-law In Saanich

Public hearing on the matter of rezoning the 57-acre area at Gordon Head for an airpark site will be held at the Women's Institute Hall, Royal Oak, next Thursday night at 8.

Decision to hold it in the institute hall rather than the municipal hall was made at a special meeting of Saanich Council last night when it was thought the big gathering the event would attract would require a larger hall.

Reeve E. C. Warren announced that the transportation franchise by-law will be voted on June 19 and pointed out that meetings will have to be held before that date in each ward to explain to ratepayers the new agreement with the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

The council decided to postpone until next Tuesday its decision as to what area surrounding the proposed airpark ratepayers should be heard on the matter. There was a majority feeling in the council that a circle should be drawn from a point in the centre of the proposed airpark and only ratepayers in that area be allowed to speak pro and con on the project.

Some amendments to the rezoning by-law were passed at the meeting.

Germans Walk Out Of Munich Conference

MUNICH (AP)—Delegates from the Russian occupation zone withdrew from a Germany-wide conference of German leaders today following a stormy dispute with officials from the other three occupation zones.

The Russian zone officials demanded the conference discuss the formation of a centralized German government, although the conference was called solely to discuss economic problems and politics was excluded in advance from the agenda.

Wants More Copies Of Spy Report

LONDON (CP)—Sir Waldron Smithers, Conservative member of Parliament, Thursday renewed his plea for more copies of the report of the Royal Commission in Ottawa on the Canadian "spy ring" last year.

Sir Waldron said in the Commons the report contained "direct evidence of Communist propaganda in the city of London." He asked Glenvil Hall, financial secretary to the Treasury: "Are you aware that Communist propaganda is the root of most of the trouble of the world today?"

The Conservative member said he wanted 100,000 copies of the report ordered from the Canadian government. Hall said he had stated before that additional copies were on order and he was aware of demands for about 600 copies of the report.

Decontrol Expected On Canned Milk

OTTAWA (CP)—Quota restrictions on canned milk along with some other controls probably will be abolished in a major decontrol order expected by informed Ottawa sources to be announced shortly.

The order is expected to remove rationing and price ceilings on such things as jams, jellies, honey, ice cream and seasonal products in the food field and it is believed the quota restrictions on canned milk may be included in the face of present large stocks.

Hope Held Out For Curing Lepers

LONDON (Reuter)—Hope of curing the world's 2,000,000 lepers was given in this week's British Medical Journal by Dr. Ernest Muir, medical secretary of the British Empire Leprosy Relief Association. Sulphones, drugs usually employed in the treatment of tuberculosis, have proved more useful in the treatment of leprosy, he said.

FLYING LIZARDS FLAPPED IN AIR WHILE DINOSAURS ROAMED EARTH

In times long ago, while dinosaurs were roaming the earth, there were strange flying animals.

I am thinking of the "Pterodactyls," a name meaning "Flying Lizards" or "Flying Reptiles." These were reptiles and they lived before there were birds.

Flying lizards were of many sizes. Some were as small as the common bats of today. Others were larger than any bird which men have seen in the air.

We know about those ancient flying lizards only because of the remains they left behind them. Imprints of their bodies and wings have been found on clunks of rock, showing that they died while lying on soft mud. The mud hardened before the imprints were washed away by rain, and at length the mud became stone.

In addition to the imprints, we have skeletons which were left behind by flying lizards. These skeletons have been found in the form of many bones encased in rocks. After being taken from the rocks, the bones were pieced together to make the skeletons.

The flying lizard had a long head, a short body and a tail. Its bones were thin, and were of light weight, as are the bones of birds today.

One flying lizard has been found with such long wing bones that it is estimated to have had a wingspread of 27 feet.

No bird of the present time—not even the wandering albatross—has nearly such a great wingspread as the largest of the flying lizards.

As we know from the imprints they left behind them, flying lizards were without any feathers on their bodies. It is believed that they were awkward about flying, being perhaps as jerky as modern bats.

So-called "flying lizards" exist today in southern Asia, but they are of very different size and shape. Instead of flapping their wings, they glide from one tree to another, or from a tree limb to the ground. They grow to be only about 10 inches long, counting their tails.

Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

GINGER, FRED MAY DANCE AGAIN
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — It happens, Ginger Rogers said, with amazing regularity. She meets Fred Astaire at a party, or in a restaurant, and they talk of making another musical together.

Mrs. Astaire says, "You're crazy if you don't." "But nothing happens," Ginger told me. "I get ascript to read once a month from every studio in town. But no one sends me a musical. I haven't seen a musical script for eight years. I'd love to do one, especially with Fred. Maybe we should be embarrassed because no one suggests it."

Well, I'm suggesting it. I think another Astaire-Rogers musical would make a fortune, especially in technicolor. Ginger and Fred made eight co-starring films, but none were in color.

Ginger has won a reputation as a dramatic actress—an Oscar for "Kitty Foyle" in 1940—and as a comedienne for her work in "The Major and the Minor." Fred has gone on dancing with other partners. But none of them seemed to click as did the dance team of Fred and Ginger.

STUDIO REJECTS DANCES

She's making a movie now entitled, "It Had to Be You," at Columbia. It's a cute story about a rich girl who runs out on three marriages just as she's supposed to say "I do," because she senses there's something wrong.

Finally she dreams about a mysterious Indian (Cornel Wilde) who leads her to her dream man (also Cornel Wilde). It turns out that she has been in love with him ever since they were kids when, dressed as an Indian, he kissed her at her 10th birthday party.

Ginger wanted to work some dances into the dream sequences, but the studio said no.

I wondered if it would be safe to mention "The Magnificent Doll" to Ginger. Ginger playing Dolly Madison, Hollywood agreed, was like casting Lana Turner as Sister Kenny.

"I don't care what Hollywood thought about it," Ginger said, bristling a little. "I liked it. And my business manager just told me it's making money."

SCREEN'S PARENTS

William Powell and Irene Dunne, who star in "Life With Father" on the screen, have copies of "Life With Mother," still in the first draft stage. They're the logical candidates for the film roles. . . . Audrey Totter wants to play the role of a lady detective in a fall radio show written for her, by Fred Heider. . . . Success of Groucho as a single in "Copacabana" has Chico Marx paging United Artists for a solo comedy for himself.

The King Brothers are still after Governor Robert Blue of Iowa to play a role in "Gun Crazy." . . . Hollywood love-ground: Mickey Rooney at the Chateaufort with Diana Garrett, who used to go with Dave Rose, who used to go with June Haver.

ROYAL THEATRE

Now showing at the Royal Theatre are the adventures of a young farm girl who eventually wins a seat in Congress. The new romantic comedy drama, "The Farmer's Daughter," stars Loretta Young as the girl, Joseph Cotten as able young congressman, and Ethel Barrymore, his politically influential mother, who employs her as a maid. The maid attends a political rally of a congressional candidate, sponsored by her employers, and discredits him.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Brenda Marshall and George Brent are the stars of Warner Bros. latest adventure comedy film, "You Can't Escape Forever," which is now at the Oak Bay Theatre. Brent plays the role of a newspaper editor who has to take over the love-love column when he allows his suspicions to get the better of his common sense.

Brenda is cast as a sob sister.

FOUR DIE IN MONTREAL AIR CRASH—Four men died in the wreckage of this seaplane when it plunged into the St. Lawrence River opposite Montreal. At first it was believed only three men were aboard, but the body of a fourth victim was recovered in the swift-flowing river. The dead were: Pilot James Mathewson, Flight Engineer Tucker Harris, M. N. "Tiny" Smith and Lloyd E. Young.

ATLAS THEATRE

Claudette Colbert is still taking a ribbing from the cast of her new picture, "The Secret Heart," now showing at the Atlas Theatre, as regards her "fashion" interview.

After her Irene-designed wardrobe for the M-G-M romantic drama, in which she is seen with Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson, was ballyhooed to the sky, a New York fashion editor came out to Hollywood to see Miss Colbert and her clothes.

When the fashion expert arrived on the set of "The Secret Heart," Miss Colbert was arrayed in a ten-year-old sweater and a paint-spattered pair of dungarees!

Sonata Recital At Little Centre

John Pimm and P. M. H. Edwards

In a joint benefit program, under the auspices of the University Women's Club and the Little Centre, in aid of the British University Women's Relief Fund for re-establishment of professional women on the continent who were victims of Nazi tyranny, a violin and piano Sonata Recital will be presented at the Little Centre next Tuesday evening and repeated Wednesday evening.

Performing artists are John Pimm, violinist, a Victoria resident recently of the Royal Canadian Navy and P. M. H. Edwards, F.T.C.L., A.R.C.M. L.R.A.M., pianist, who has lately returned from Venezuela, South America.

Included in the program is Schubert's Sonata No. 1 in D. Op. 137; Cesar Franck's Sonata in A; Handel's Sonata in A; and Sonata No. 2 by Edmund Rubbra, acclaimed by modern critics as the most significant English composer today.

At the conclusion of the Sonata Recital there will be a showing of the Emily Carr technical film "Klee Wyck."

'The Chase' Comes To Plaza Screen

Stranger than fiction is the story of how Caesar Latta, French film art director, learned of the whereabouts of his daughter, Yolanda, and that she had survived the war.

Yolanda Latta played the chief female interest in "The Story of G.I. Joe." Her father, who had worked with the underground in Italy during the war, saw the film in an army theatre and learned in that way that his daughter was in Hollywood.

Latta sent a message to his daughter which was delivered to her on the set of "The Chase," in which film she is currently featured.

"The Chase," a psychological thriller produced by Seymour Nebenzahl, is at the Plaza Theatre today.

'Bullet Scars' Gangster Story

Howard Da Silva is currently featured in "Bullet Scars," now showing at the Rio Theatre. The picture portrays the lives of gangsters, their eventual downfall and one of the bloodiest man-hunts ever screened.

Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette of Gene Autry fame ride together in "Fighting Frontiersman," which completes the double bill.

YORK THEATRE

History tells us that the romances of Royalty are more likely to have complications than those of commoners; for there are times when affairs of the heart must be set aside for affairs of state. What happened when a lovely Empress of Austria refused to let her council of advisers dictate the choice of a husband to her, is melodiously illustrated in "Waltz Time," the new musical hit which is now playing at the York Theatre.

Sailor Owes Life To Sudden Switch

MONTREAL (CP)—Seven-year-old Johnny Sepchuk of Montreal, wheelsman, first reported missing but who quit the Lakes freighter Emperor a few hours before she sailed on her ill-fated voyage Tuesday night, probably owes his life to a last-minute decision to switch to an ocean-going ship.

His place in the Emperor was taken by a 'teen-aged Toronto sailor, J. Prohupof, now listed as among the 10 crew members whose bodies have not yet been recovered.

Register Children For Oak Bay Playground

Oak Bay Playground Committee will hold its annual meeting Friday at 8 in Oak Bay Municipal Hall. Parents will be given opportunity to register their children and to meet playground supervisors. President Eric Greville-Jones will be in the chair and treasurer, Mr. Roy Johnson and secretary, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, will give reports. Election of officers will take place, following which a playground film will be shown.

Flags Ordered—At a meeting of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., 100 folder flags were ordered for the chapter's adopted school, George Jay, and a sum of $5 was contributed to the Greater Victoria Girl Guides. The regent, Mrs. Thomas Lumsden, presided, and congratulations were extended to Mrs. J. L. Gates on being appointed national councillor. Mrs. V. Chadwick and Mrs. J. Murray were welcomed as new members and it was decided to hold a rummage sale in the autumn and a bazaar on November 1, with Mrs. W. R. Roskelley as convener. Donations for the chapter's charities were received from R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion. The chapter donated two dozen pairs of pyjamas to the T.B. Pavilion, Royal Jubilee Hospital, and sent two parcels to needy families in England last month.

with two more to be sent this month. Mrs. G. Moody was named to decorate the sunroom; Mrs. W. Pinhorn to arrange distribution of flowers three times a year at the D.V.A. Hospital with Mrs. George Lillie and Mrs. A. M. Heulin, convener at the T.B. Pavilion.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

Notice to Contractors BITUMINOUS SURFACE TREATMENTS

Separate Sealed Tenders, marked "Tender for Bituminous Surfacing, Section 2A, 2 and 2B," as the case may be, will be received by the Minister of Public Works, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, up to 12 o'clock noon, on the date specified for each section, and the said tenders will be opened in public at that time and date.

Section 1—Comox, Cowichan-Newcastle, Esquimalt and Nanaimo and the Islands Electoral District. JUNE 13, 1947.

Section 2A—Burnaby, Dewdney and North Vancouver Electoral Districts—JUNE 14, 1947.

Section 3—Kamloops, Balmora Arm and Yale Electoral Districts—JUNE 20, 1947.

Section 2B—Lillooet Electoral District—JUNE 20, 1947.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque made payable to the Minister of Public Works for the following amount:

Section No. 1—Eleven thousand dollars ($11,000.00).

Section No. 2A—Five thousand dollars ($5,000.00).

Section No. 3—Eight thousand dollars ($8,000.00).

Section No. 2B—One thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

The cheques of unsuccessful tenders will be returned to them when the contract has been awarded.

Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

Tenders must submit with their tenders a list stating the type, capacity and present location (so that inspection can be made if necessary) of the equipment in their possession or at their disposal that is immediately available for the carrying out of the work within the time limit specified without in any way curtailing or delaying any departmental project that may be under contract at this date.

No tender will be considered that does not contain this information.

No tender will be accepted or considered that contains an escalator clause or any other qualifying conditions.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

H. C. ANDERSON, Chief Engineer.
Department of Public Works, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C.
File 5639, June 2, 1947.

with two more to be sent this month. Mrs. G. Moody was named to decorate the sunroom; Mrs. W. Pinhorn to arrange distribution of flowers three times a year at the D.V.A. Hospital with Mrs. George Lillie and Mrs. A. M. Heulin, convener at the T.B. Pavilion.
